Brazil Government May Draft Young Men For Army

PLAN TO END REVOLUTION IN 15 DAYS

Existing Stocks of Food
In Warehouses Requisitioned
By Administrator
BANKS ALSO CLOSED
Federal Troops Reported To Be Marching On Stronghold of Rebels

BY C. A. POWELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
(Copyright 1930 by United Press)
RIO DE JANEIRO, Oct. 7.—Conscription of all men between 21 and 30 was considered by the government today, it was understood at the newest measure in combating the revolution.

The government has requisitioned
the existing stocks of food in warehouses, including cereals, dried meat and other staples, and Gen.
Felipe Antonio Xavier de Barros, former war department official,
named controller of food distribution.
It was said the action was to prevent exploitation of the supply.
The capital's milk supply has been affected by the suspension of train service from Minas Geraes, source of most of the milk used here.

With martial law in effect
throughout Brazil and the banks in Rio de Janeiro closed for 15 days, the administration hurried to reassure the people that these measures are for the purpose of putting the insurrection down in the shortest possible time, and that it was confident the rebels would be routed.

The United Press learned that federal troops were marching in a strong force on Bello Horizonte, rebel stronghold in the neighboring state of Minas Geraes. It is believed their strategy is to surround the city and then attack.

Revolutionary forces, at the same time were reported advancing to meet the federals. They may meet momentarily at a spot less than 100 miles from the capital.

Enthusiasm over their success in an air bombardment of Bello Horizonte on Sunday, the federals are massing airplanes for another attack in co-operation with troops on this front. At the same time they have concentrated flying squadrons, warships and troops off the coast of Rio Grande do Sul for an offensive on the southern front.

The federal forces in Rio Grande
do Sul were loyal to the government, the authorities insisted, with the exception of some natives of the state who deserted and went over to the rebels.

Government officials discounted
the reports that the revolt was spreading to other states than Rio Grande do Sul and Minas Geraes.

Allow Claims Of Ross Creditors

At a meeting of the creditors of W. W. Ross, former Moreland truck dealer here, now serving a San Quentin term for grand theft, the Federal Finance company's claims were settled on a compromise basis whereby secured claims for $179,- 940.05 and unsecured claims of approximately $17,000 were allowed.
It is not known yet on what ratio
the claims will be paid when the bankruptcy proceedings are settled.

400-Pound Wife Gets Divorce From Aviator

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 7.—
(UP)—Mrs. Naomi Specht
Scoff, 400-pound heiress,
bought her husband an airplane and he flew away in it,
she told Judge J. W. Hanley in winning a divorce today from James T. Scoff, aviator.

Although she possessed a $4,000,000 fortune, her husband found the burden of supporting her was too heavy and for a year failed to contribute to her upkeep,
Mrs. Scoff declared.

MENTION BROCK AS POSSIBLE STATE LEADER

May Succeed Hecke As Director of Agriculture
Dept. Next Year

THAT THE NAME OF A. A.
Brock, Orange county agricultural commissioner, is being mentioned in connection with possible appointment to the post
of director of the state department of agriculture, was learned today
in a dispatch from Sacramento,
which declared that reappointment
of George H. Hecke to that post was doubtful should James Rolph assume the governor's chair next January.

Information from Homer L. Roberts, special writer for the United Press, stated that in the event of Rolph's election one of the toughest decisions he will have to make is whether or not to retain Hecke
in the post as director of the department, and that some of Rolph's closest advisors are avowed enemies of Hecke, who have frankly admitted they are going to see that he is not reappointed. Hecke, however, has powerful support in most of the farm organizations of the state, leaders declaring that they will oppose every effort to have him ousted.

Hecke, it is recounted, faced a similar situation in 1923, when it was expected that he would be retired on the election of Friend Richardson as governor. Richardson was not regarded as friendly to the director of agriculture, but when the matter of appointment came up Richardson was faced by the most formidable group of farm leaders ever to endorse any candidate for an appointive state post,
and Hecke was reappointed.

The same support that Hecke had at that time is reported to be his today and it is possible that Rolph may not be able to turn a deaf ear to these recommendations and make an appointment that would better please some of his close advisors. Hecke is making one thing clear—the fact that he is not sponsoring any drive or campaign to secure his reappointment.

Dudley Moulton, San Francisco
county agricultural commissioner, whose views on agriculture are exactly opposite those of Hecke, is reported to be Rolph's first choice for director should he decide to let Hecke out and make a new appointment. There is a question as to whether Moulton, coming from a non-farming county, would be acceptable to the farming interests of Southern California.

Opposition to Moulton by Southern California farmers has been expressed recently in a statement
designed to reach Mayor Rolph,
and the same group offered the name of Brock as a possibility, Roberts reports. Brock, it is understood, is more in harmony with the program now in effect, and is thoroughly cognizant of conditions in the state. Another man who has been mentioned for the post is Robert Wilson of the state chamber of commerce.

Hecke, a graduate of horticultural college, Giesenheim - on - the Rhine; Viticultural college, Montpellier, France, and Royal Botanical Gardens, Kew, England; has been honored by mention in Who's Who in America. He was first appointed head of agriculture in California by Gov. Hiram W. Johnson. Hecks originated the western plant quarantine board composed of 11 western states, Lower California and the Hawaiian islands,
organized the agricultural legislative committee embracing 45 agricultural associations, and headed the successful campaigns against the foot and mouth disease in 1924
and 1925. A practical dirt farmer, he owns 200 acres in orchards and vineyards at Woodland and like acreage for dairying.

FUNERAL TRAIN BEARS FORTY- SEVEN CRASH VICTIMS HOME

CRIPPLED GIRL WIFE GOES TO DOCTORS SOON

Word Awaited From Specialist Before Little Mother Goes Away

WITH THE COMPLETION of a fund of over $700.00 raised through the generosity and cooperation of scores of unknown
friends in Santa Ana and the surrounding county, to pay traveling expenses of Mrs. Mamie Henderson and her husband, Ralph Henderson, back to the famous Minnesota clinic
where specialists will give freely of their services in restoring the young woman to health, word was today awaited from the surgeons,
as to the date when the operation
will be performed.

Mrs. Henderson, whose back was broken three years ago in an automobile accident, and whose condition steadily has grown worse until she is now paralyzed from the waist down, must have the constant care of a nurse or traveling companion on the journey from Santa Ana to the clinic. Her husband, who gives all of his time and care to her, will make the trip with her, and the money donated so generously by sympathetic readers of the Register, and friends whose interest was aroused in the case,
will go towards defraying the expenses of the trip.

The money is deposited in one of the city banks, awaiting the telegram from the surgeons, when it will be expended for tickets, etc.
The generosity of the community
in giving the money, has not only meant life and health to this girl-
mother, but has been a wonderful example of man's sense of responsibility and universal brotherhood.

Contributions continued to come in even after the necessary sum was realized, and among those whose names have not before been listed,
but who have given so freely, were:

RADIO INVENTOR TO WED ACTRESS

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 7.—(UP)—
Dr. Lee DeForest, inventor of radio and talking picture apparatus, will marry Marie Mosquini, screen
comedianne, he revealed today.

The wedding will take place as soon as a divorce decree obtained
in New York by the present Mrs.
DeForest—his second wife—becomes final, Dr. DeForest said.

Her suit, brought in a remote county of New York state to avoid publicity, was not opposed.

A report that he and Miss Mos-quini had been married secretly in Mexico was denied by Dr. De-Forest.

OIL QUESTION UP FOR RULING OCT. 14

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Oct. 7.
—(UP)—The Oklahoma supreme court denied dismissal of a suit contesting the constitutionality of the state proration regulations
filed by C. C. Julian, Oklahoma city oil operator.

Denial of the motion means the court will rule on the legality of oil proration in Oklahoma by next Tuesday. Julian asked for the dismissal after a federal court here upheld the proration regulation as legal.

Calvin Coolidge Says

BY CALVIN COOLIDGE
Former President of the United States
BOSTON, Mass., Oct. 7.—
There has been dedicated in the city of Pittsburgh a stately memorial to George Westinghouse. More than fifty thousand of his former workmen and professional associates testified to the respect and affection in which they held him by contributing to the cost of this great monument. The ceremony of unveiling was attended by a great throng of prominent business men representing both the old and the new world. George Westinghouse had that combination which is so rare of both inventive and business genius.
His air brake and signal system made possible the speed and safety of the modern railroad. Without the contribution that he made to transportation it would not be possible with the present roadbed and equipment to serve the business of this country. Between 1870 and his death in 1914 he had built up industries in many countries which employed about two hundred thousand people. He was the first to establish a Saturday half holiday in a great industry. He was one of the pioneers in electrical engineering.
Because he lived industrial life
is more human, more safe and more productive. He ranks as one of the great benefactors of mankind.

MRS. NORTHCOTT IMPROVED

SAN QUENTIN PRISON, Calif., Oct. 7.—(UP)—Slightly improved in San Quentin hospital, where she has been confined in a state of collapse since her son's execution, Mrs. Louise Northcott will be able to return to her cell in a few days.
Dr. L. L. Stanley, prison physician, said today. Mrs. Northcott collapsed when informed that her son, Gordon Stewart Northcott, had been hanged.

McRAE IN HOSPITAL

LA JOLLA, Calif., Oct. 7.—(UP)—
Col. Milton A. McRae, veteran newspaper publisher and associate of the late E. W. Scripps, was today undergoing an operation for cancer at Scripps hospital here today.

Welcome White Ribboners

The Register desires to extend to the Woman's Christian Temperance Union of the state a most cordial welcome to our city. We welcome you for what you are, for the work that you have done, for the vision which you have, and for the hopes that are reposed in you.
We know that your organization was born of inspiration and prayer, at a period when the evils of the liquor traffic were at their worst in this great nation.

For more than a half-century, you have furnished the leadership
under which laws have been enacted, and provided for the instruction on the evils of alcohol and narcotics upon the human system. Laws were enacted in response to the sentiment so created, empowering communities to banish the crime of selling this alcoholic poison, and finally there has been the consummation from a legislative point of view, of your great hopes for our country—the declaration placed in the organic law of the republic, that this traffic in alcohol for beverage purposes shall be under the ban of the law; that if it lives at all, it shall live as a criminal, skulking its mean and dirty way through the devious paths of the outlaw.

Those who remember the conditions which existed in the early days of your history, and are able to compare them in their memory with conditions as they exist today, are most grateful for your labor and your sacrifice, and are your supporters without stint, during this period of further trial and contest. Your confidence of the sentiment expressed by Abraham Lincoln that "right makes might"; your motto: "For God and Home and Every Land"; your purpose: "For a sober and virtuous world", together with your untiring labor in carrying out these great ideals, cause your group to be a hallowing and purifying influence in every community and a benediction to any city in which you hold a convention such as you are holding here.

We know that you are fully aware that a contest for the right is eternal. No contest is ever fully won, and it cannot be until all the units of society agree as touching the spirit that gave the contest birth.
"New occasions teach new duties." The standards of today are above the standards of yesterday. The horizon widens. Conditions of society improve. Beginning locally, with the ideal of temperance and of prayer, solving the problem, you have gone forward to the point of insistence that the nation shall banish the privilege of drunkard-making,
and the world is your parish.

So we welcome you to Santa Ana, where you and yours are appreciated; in which city and county citizenship is as fine as anywhere in America; a community wherein your local organizations are active, wisely led and respected. We know that you will have a profitable and happy convention here, and our community will be better for your visit.

70,000 LEGION DELEGATES IN BOSTON PARADE

Two Million Persons Watch Former Doughboys In Long Procession

BOSTON, Oct. 7.—(UP)—The American Legion was on parade today. Through Boston's flag-decked streets, lined with an estimated crowd of 2,000,000, some 70,000 brilliantly uniformed Legionnaires and members of affiliated organizations marched in the greatest spectacle of its kind in this city's long history.

The parade, expected to require more than seven hours to pass a given point, was the climax of merrymaking and pageantry marking the 12th annual convention of the Legion veterans.

Boston was treated to a sample of American Legion parading last night when the Forty and Eight,
the fun-making branch of the organization, marched over a three-mile route.

This morning, under cloudy skies branches of the Legion joined hands in the tremendous demonstration.

Alaska was the first department
in line, marching behind the marshals and 300 aides and distinguished guests, including Past National Commander Paul V. Mc-Nutt, General Clarence R. Edwards, war time commander of the 26th (Yankee) division, and General Edward L. Logan. The first band in line was the champion
American Legion band.

Arizona, which led the state departments, had a novel exhibit, preceded by "Miss Arizona," a small but lively burro, this delegation drew applause with a caravan of 12 glass-sided circus wagons housing a weird assortment of fauna peculiar to the sunset state.
The portable cages contained rattlesnakes, gila monsters, lizards,
horned toads and desert hawks.

No coffin was marked with definite identification. It is possible
all will be buried from Alloune, the common grave. One, however, was on a separate carriage, indicating that it might be that of the British Air Minister, Lord Thomson.

As the bodies, only five of them identified, started back to England,
experts of the British air ministry
appeared no nearer a definite conclusion regarding the cause of the disaster to the R-101 than they had been at the start of their investigation. General belief was it was caused by a weakened structure, perhaps due to the recent lengthening of the ship. Or leaky gas bags. Both causes could be attributed to the force of the storm which sent the giant dirigible
crashing to earth.

Harry Leach, Arthur Bell and Joseph Binks, survivors of the crash, proceeded to Paris by train
today. The condition of Arthur Dis-

SEEK MURDERER OF WOMAN IN OAKLAND

OAKLAND, Calif., Oct. 7.—(UP)—
Belief that Mrs. Frances Chavez, 25, Oakland widow, was murdered
last night following a drinking party in her apartment, was expressed today by Oakland police.

Search of the apartment revealed a bottle and two glasses partially filled with wine, police declared.

Mrs. Chavez was found dead in her bed by her roommate, Rose Riera. Her arms were folded across her breast and a blood-stained towel was hanging from a door knob.

Search of the room failed to reveal a revolver, although an empty shell was found on the side of the bed. Mrs. Chavez was shot through the left temple, the bullet emerging through the right side of the neck.

British Air Experts Are In Quandary

Unable to Ascertain Cause of Accident—France Pays Respects

BEAUVAIS, France, Oct. 7.—(UP)—
A funeral train started across France today bearing 47 rough coffins, containing the remains of the men who were killed
when the British dirigible R-101, world's largest airship, crashed
and exploded near here early Sunday.

Citizens in towns and villages paid mute honor to the dead as the funeral cortege, bearing the bodies of Lord Thomson, British minister for air, and many of Britain's most noted airship experts passed.

Premier Andrew Tardieu and French Air Minister Laurent Eynac led the funeral procession from the town hall, where the bodies were taken from Alloune, to the railroad station.

French airplanes flew overhead,
and infantry escorted the procession with muffled drums.

French troops lined the funeral route.

The train of five black vans and two coaches proceeded to Boulogne, where the bodies were to be put aboard British warship Ton-est and taken to England.

The booming of the salute of 101 guns was the only audible signal of sorrow. There were no speeches, no church ceremony.

There was much reminiscence
of wartime France as the cortege moved towards the railroad station. The booming cannons, the French troops, the rain, the lumbering wagons that had brought the bodies here from Alloune, the British and French flags at half mast over the town hall, all recalled the days between 1914 and 1918.

Lord Tyrell, British ambassador to Paris, and other high French and British officials stood bareheaded in token of England's sorrow at the loss of brave and experienced men who planned to link her empire by air.

No coffin was marked with de-

STATE PRESIDENT

Mrs. Eva C. Wheeler, state president of the W. C. T. U., delivered her annual address
before delegates at the state convention in session here
this afternoon.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE IS GIVEN TODAY

Mrs. Eva Wheeler Declares
Prohibition Is Success
And Always Will Be HAS FAITH IN YOUTH
Urges New Immigration Law Permitting More Women to Enter Country

By MARAH ADAMS
"WE MUST DECIDE our policy for the coming year—shall it be advance or retreat?
Shall we advance before war or retreat before war?" asked Mrs. Eva C. Wheeler, state president of the W. C. T. U., this afternoon, in presenting her annual address before delegates of the forty-eighth state convention of the organization which opened today at the First Methodist church.

The evangelistic hour this morning was in charge of Mrs. Kate Morris Claves, state director of the Evangelistic department and following this opening service an impressive salute to the flag was given with Mrs. Frances Davenport, patriotic instructor, in charge of the ceremony. The convention was called to order by Mrs.
Wheeler, and the singing was led by Mrs. Allie Simmons Wheeler, state director of music, with Anna Wheeler as the convention accompanist.

A part of the morning program included a ceremony honoring the crusaders of the W. C. T. U. movement, roll call of delegates,
high lights of accomplishment by state officers, the annual memoral service and an inspirational message, "Hannah," the First W.
C. T. U. heroine," given by Dr.
John Matthews, pastor of the radio
church of the air.

Mrs. Wheeler's subject was "Charge or Retreat" and she said
in part:

"We cry peace when there is no peace. What of China and India, South America and half a dozen other nations today? We say the world war ended in 1918.
Oh no! It ended June 30, 1930, with the final evacuation from the Rhineland by the French troops and that came five years earlier than the date specified in the Versailles treaty. We are still hoping that the armistice marked the beginning of a new epoch but we must learn to live with our fellowmen if we would have a permanent peace.

"We do not even try to understand the foreign born in our own state, how can we appreciate those in other countries? A learned Mexican recently said,
'The Mexican is the hardest person on earth to understand because of our mixed race.' He also declared that, 'The Mexican government discourages emigration to the United States because one million out of our fourteen million have already crossed the border when they are sorely needed at home to develop our own wonderful country.' Yet the Mexican resents
the exclusion act now before congress because it singles them out from other South and Central American countries, just as the Japanese were offended by a similar exclusion act. Is an exclusion act necessary for Mexico? We have already cut immigration from that country.
American laborers will not do what is called stooped labor—
bending to the ground to work.
California needs that kind of labor. The Mexican, Filipino and Japanese will do stooped work.

Need More Women
"We need an emigration law preventing more men than women coming from the various countries. Our Filipino trouble is that there are fourteen Phil-ipino young men to one Phil-ipino young woman in California. These young Filipinos wish to associate with many American girls—then trouble begins. America must learn to sus-tain commercial and friendly relationship with all nations upon absolute equality—reciprocity and mutual respect. We must loose our superiority complex. We will attack for we need peace education to become peace minded.
I have seen a Quaker woman naturalization papers because she refused to pledge to bear arms if the law should be so changed as to compel women to fight.

STATE W. C. T. U. GAINS 8000 IN NEW MEMBERS

Encouraging Reports Made
at First Session Held in Methodist Church

HIGH LIGHTS of accomplishment given by state officers of the W. C. T. U. this morning revealed a most encouraging year of progression. State officers gowned in white, were seated on the platform and silver haired women who had worn the tiny white ribbon emblematic of a long struggle with the anti-temperance movement mingled in the audience with women of two latter generations.

In a report of the literature bureau given by Mrs. Anna Brown Hall, it was revealed that literature costing $2500 was distributed during the year.

It was also shown that $201 new members had been added to the organization during the past 12 months. A report of the treasurer, Mrs. Bertha Brinker, showed that expenditures of $24,644.95 had been made and that a balance of $864.30 remained in the treasury.

Mrs. Hattie Corline Young, state recording secretary, reviewed the meetings of the state executive board, 49 sessions having been held. "With a double membership,
a greater influence, a deeper consecration and a determined spirit,
we can make the W. C. T. U.
of California a mighty power for civil righteousness and enforcement of law," Mrs. Young declared.

Recommendations of the state president, Mrs. Eva C. Wheeler, were read and included in them
was a plan to observe January 16
as a red letter day, as this is the anniversary of the 18th amendment.

Mrs. Wheeler asked that members of the local unions pledge their support for the development of the movement for week-day
religious education in this state,
as is now being done in Long Beach, and that members work

CREATION OF POWER WITH WATER SHOWN

MATANZAS, Cuba, Oct. 7.—(UP)— Another demonstration of the creation of power with the aid of sea water was given yesterday by Prof. Georges Claude, the French scientist.

The demonstration, which generated sufficient power to light 40
electric bulbs of 10,000 watts each,
was the first public showing of the plant which Professor Claude established here. The French scientist explained to the spectators, including J. M. Panas, president of the Geographical society, the theory of his experiments.

He then turned on the pumps
drawing large quantities of sea water from the bottom of Matanzas bay. The water passed over the generator and the bulbs were lighted.

STATE W.C.T.U. CONCLAVE IS OPENED TODAY

"If the United States government never takes as much care and spends as much money to teach youth how to preserve peace as it has and does to teach war, we will build up a great peace organization that would take the place of the old war machine."

"Ratification by congress of the London peace pact was a long stride in the right direction and a great victory for President Hoover and all lovers of peace and the day will soon come when the United States will be a part of the World Court. Instead of unofficially listening in, let us make charge after charge against the monster war until peace will knit together the world in a common brotherhood. Remember there can be only one family for there is only one Father. He cleanses the mind of class prejudices and hate and bitterness. He is the builder of universal brotherhood."

Proud of American Men

"Shall we blow the retreat of prohibition? Retreat because of Mr. Personal Liberty? Well, you might have personal liberty for men, but you can't have personal liberty for women and children at the same time. The emergence of wives from complete control of their husbands gives women and children the right to some personal liberty; the right to be protected; the right to have laws limiting labor of women and children; laws broadening property rights for women; laws establishing compulsory education, laws insisting upon sanitation of food and of homes; laws requiring the husband and father to support the family take much from men's personal liberty and gives more personal liberty to children and women. All such laws culminated in the 18th and 19th amendments and all came as free gifts from men to women and children. The mighty proud of American manhood—there is none finer under Heaven!"

Retreat To What?

"The Canadian plan under which Canada now has 4419 privately owned and controlled places where alcoholic drinks are sold, and only 585 government controlled liquor stores or almost eight times as many places where the government has no more control than we had of our saloons to one place run by the government. Then, there is nothing to prevent one person from buying a thousand dollars worth of whiskey from a government store in one day—how convenient for the bootlegger. Under this plan the sale of booze has increased 127 per cent in some places and 179 per cent increase in others."

"Or the bill introduced into congress last May would amend the 18th amendment providing that 'the exclusive power to tax, license, regulate or suppress the manufacture, sale, transportation, exportation and importation of intoxicating liquors shall be vested in the congress of the United States,' or Ambassador Morrow's plan of simple state control."

Law Confusing

"Many ardent drys do not even know what the Volstead act is. First, it defines the word liquor, then it prohibits manufacturing, selling, bartering, transporting, importing, exporting, delivering, furnishing or possessing of any intoxicating liquors except as authorized by law. As to possession of liquor it provides that such possession is prima facie evidence, that it is kept for sale in violation of law but it also says 'It shall not be unlawful to possess liquors in one's private dwelling—provided such liquors are for use only for personal consumption of the owner thereof his family and of his bona fide guests when entertained by him.' Don't you see how confusing the law is. Made so by compromise with the wet interests and causes much trouble with law enforcement."

"We will charge and counter charge until the facts are known. One million children crowd our public schools; they must be taught that alcohol is a poison; that many doctors led by the great English physician, Dr. Courtenay Weeks, declares that 'Alcohol actually is a narcotic habit forming drug.'"

Prohibition Efficient

"Prohibition has proven that efficiency and mounting wages go hand in hand. Our per capita income has increased under prohibition 26 per cent in the past ten years while that of Great Britain's increase has been only 5 per cent. For our nation the increase is 66 per cent and for Great Britain only 4 per cent. The average American laborer, last year, produced $5200 to England's worker $1500. United States Senator Jones declared that, 'Prohibition is now saving every man, woman and child in the United States thirty cents per day—not so bad. Prohibition and industry have matched swords with alcohol and beaten it. America has 7 per cent of the world's population and now consumes 72 per cent of the world's milk.'"

"We will charge and counter charge until the popular cocktail degeneracy is as much a thing to be shunned and the booze vendor is as much despised as the drunk and the saloon keeper of yesterday until all realize there is not one single feature now known in the invasion of the 18th Amendment which we did not have before prohibition."

Press Criticized

"Never before have our great and powerful metropolitan newspapers thrown the whole weight of their influence almost unanimously against the government. Never have they given the space and the display to any item of public controversy as has been given against prohibition and never have editors allowed themselves to show so strong a bias in handling news on the prohibition subject. California is fortunate in having several notable exceptions to the general rule. I wonder what the great metropolitan newspapers would charge the W. C. T. U. for news column space they now give free to the friends of booze?"

"Charge for a codification of prohibition laws; for standardization of state laws; that federal judges be compelled to give same sentences in similar cases; for swift and sure justice by honest judges and speeding court action. Attack all judges who give the minimum penalties."

"You say there is more drink among girls today? Is that the only liberty the modern girl claims? No, she smokes. Her mother did not do that before the war. She goes to dances at midnight; her mother went home at midnight. She goes bare-legged. We have forgotten all a bout girls going wrong in the saloon days. In 1914 a survey on three streets in Chicago's Loop gave an average of 14,000 girls drunk in back-rooms each night."

Faith In Youth

"I have faith in the young people of today. Many, many thousands more in college than ever before. The vast majority are not seeking the hot dazzling smoke and booze laden atmosphere of the speakeasy where the gambler, prostitute, drug addict and bootlegger flourish behind closed doors and darkened windows—they are not ashamed and trying to hide while they partake of debauching amusements. In continuing greater and greater numbers they are seeking the brilliantly lighted, pure, fresh air of out-of-door exercise of the miniature golf course. I believe this to be a healthful sign of the times."

"It was a great social dry victory when President and Mrs. Hoover sent the White House wine glasses to the national junk house. The appropriation of $250,000 without restriction to President Hoover's law enforcement committee; the change of prohibition enforcement from the treasury department to the department of justice; the appointment of Mr. Woodcock—a bone dry—as head of prohibition enforcement; the invocation of the Jones law to bring about felony convictions and the deportation of foreign bootleggers at the close of a term in prison as a felon, and the failure of the wets of California to secure enough signatures to put the Wright law on the ballot are all great successful attacks that have routed the enemy and advanced prohibition many leagues."

"We will charge in behalf of humanity, for world peace, world purity, and world prohibition. We will not fail to emphasize the moral and religious basis on which the prohibition movement had its origin and in which it finds its greatest and most enduring support. We must keep our spirit of endurance, courage and faith. This clarion call should arouse the fighting spirit, patriotism and loyalty and enthuse anew in every Christian warrior the determination to fight to the end in this Holy warfare."

Facing Crisis

"Sisters, I tell you America is facing another real crisis. The 'Old Ship of State' is rocking on the unrest of greed of gold—anything for profit. For political power, for personal indulgence to destroy our glorious republic. The Church of Jesus Christ made this nation great and nothing else did. Evangelism will solve our problems—evangelization of the masses about us. Let us emphasize the spiritual during the coming year as we have stressed those departments before."

"Blow the retreat? America never retreats! The W. C. T. U. does not know how to retreat. God leads and we will follow on. Our beloved banner shall never again float in protection over the liquor traffic. We will swing the bugle to our lips. We will draw our breath and from that illy of silver there shall spring the charge. We will charge for prohibition, and there will be a glorious victory."

"The W. C. T. U. will save the day! Victory for prohibition! Victory for America! Victory in the name of Jehovah!"

Tonorrow will mark one of the most interesting days at the W. C. T. U. state convention now being held in this city. Prominent speakers will be featured on the program and will include Dr. Rufus Von KleinSmid in the afternoon and Chester Rowell in the evening."

JURY REPORTS OROZCO DEATH WAS ACCIDENT

While a coroner's jury was deliberating on the cause of death of Fermin Orozco, 27, Talbert man, at Huntington Beach Sunday, deputy sheriffs were swearing to a complaint charging M. Duarte, 25, driver of the death car, with murder.

The complaint was filed in the justice court here but the defendant has not been arraigned because he is in the county hospital suffering from a broken collar bone and other injuries sustained in the crash himself.

The coroner's jury, at the Dixon funeral parlors at Huntington Beach, where the body of Orozco was taken, returned a verdict of death in an accidental manner. This decision will not, it was said, change the status of the charge against Orozco.

Following the finding of a coroner's jury at the Smith and Tuttle's funeral parlors to the effect that Mrs. Antonia Magana, of 910 East Walnut street, Santa Ana, died in an accidental manner, when the car in which she was riding with her husband and several children, collided with a car driven by Joe Balderanna, of 108 East Fourth street, at First and Sullivan street, Sunday, a charge of manslaughter against Balderanna was dismissed.

Balderanna was arrested by city police officers soon after the crash and was lodged in the county jail for suspicion of manslaughter and for investigation.

Police Chief L. C. Rogers and District Attorney Z. B. West ordered him released after the coroner's jury found that the death was due to an accident.

Officials said today that the search for a clue to the disaster might continue in the vicinity of Altonne for weeks, an area within four miles of the scene of the wreck was ordered searched in the hope of finding a detached part of the airship which might indicate the cause of the wreck. Reports that there were stowaways on the ship including a woman were unfounded, officials said.

BURT STEPHENSON SWEEPED INTO FIRE

J. B. (Burt) Stephenson of Desamco, district forest ranger, today was reported greatly improved from the burns he received yesterday when a whirlwind swept him off his feet and into a brush fire he was fighting near Cottonwood creek, south of Barrett Reservoir in San Diego county.

Stephenson, a brother of Postmaster T. E. Stephenson and father of Mrs. Edmund West of Santa Ana, is well known here. The ranger's eyelids and hair were severely scorched but he was able to scramble out of the fire before being burned seriously.

Although slightly overcome by smoke and feeling the effects of his unusual adventure, Stephenson remained on the fire line for several hours after the accident, directing a crew of 80 men, according to the report of L. C. Gordon, chief county game warden.

ASK $15,000 FOR CONDEMNED LAND

Judge H. G. Ames today was hearing evidence in the action filed by Theodore G. Gowdy against the city of Santa Ana in connection with remuneration demanded by Gowdy for the parcel of land condemned by the city in connection with the opening of Santa Ana boulevard. Gowdy, who is joined in the action by the Gilmore Oil company, which holds a lease on a portion of the land, is demanding $15,000 for the land, which embraces .61 of an acre, according to City Engineer Clyde Jenken.

The city in the proceedings set a tentative price of $1850 on the tract, and the contest is to determine what amount the city shall pay. City Attorney Charles Swann is representing the municipality in the matter.

Judge Ames returned judgment of $2198 yesterday afternoon after hearing testimony in a similar contest concerning a parcel of land formerly owned by Claude S. Minster, et al. Minster demanded $6400 for the land in his complaint. The tentative price fixed by the city on this parcel of land was $2000.

for federal supervision of motion pictures before production. Other recommendations were that local unions give active support to all legislation strengthening prohibition laws and to all moral measures, that a radio party be held November 19 when President Hoover's message to the White House conference on Child Health and Protection, is to be delivered.

Standards of work were set for local and county unions and action was taken whereby the state union will aid in the completion of the gift of $1000 to be made to establish W. C. T. U. headquarters in India.

Gift boxes are to be distributed to delegates to raise $2000 for a memorial for Frances Willard, to be placed in the California state building to be erected in Los Angeles. A plaque or bust will be selected.

The memorial service this morning was held in memory of 268 members who had passed away since the last annual convention. Mrs. Laura A. McClurken, state vice president, conducted the service and Mrs. Myrtle Belcher held the huge bouquet of white chrysanthemums, as presidents of the state unions placed the blossoms in a vase at the front of the auditorium.

when names of missing members were read.

Mrs. Theodore Winbiger placed a basket of white carnations on the platform in memory of her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Mills, who was a cousin of Frances Willard. Mrs. Winbiger also sang "Shadows" as the impressive close of the service. Imperial county was the only county represented, none of whose members had passed away.

MAKES REPORT ON PARALYSIS TO CIVIC BODY

A general survey of the infantile paralysis epidemic in Orange county was contained in a discussion yesterday afternoon by Dr. K. H. Sutherland, county health officer, before the department of public health division of the League of California Municipalities, which is holding its convention at Long Beach this week. The report follows:

"The poliomyelitis epidemic of 1930 made its appearance in Orange county on April 16 in Orange. This first case occurred four weeks in advance of the next to in a certain sense it might be classed as a prologue to the epidemic rather than as a part of the epidemic itself. The second case occurred on May 12 and from then on for several weeks there were several cases every week. The month of June recorded the greatest number of cases, with 15 reported, while by July the total had dropped to nine, with six appearing in August and three in September. The record quoted above compares with a total of three cases for 1929, seven for 1928 and 19 for 1927.

"During the epidemic one fact was impressed on our attention and that was that the infection seemed to follow very definitely the line of travel down Santa Ana canyon road from the interior appearing first in Yorba Linda, Placentia, Orange, Santa Ana, Costa Mesa, Newport Beach and then down to Laguna Beach. While there were a few variations, this sequence was followed so definitely that the fact was most striking. The infection would appear in one community along the way; several cases would be reported over a period of a couple of weeks and meanwhile the infection would move on and appear in the adjoining district. After appearing in Laguna Beach the contagion seemed to jump to a region West of Anaheim and thence spread to Anaheim and Fullerton, although one case had previously appeared in Fullerton early in the epidemic and was undiagnosed until atrophy of the paralyzed limb made the diagnosis fairly apparent. A spot map shows that the cases are fairly well grouped in centers of population. During this epidemic we did not have the scattered cases in the isolated districts that we sometimes have.

"Incidence by weeks shows the peak of the epidemic to have been about June 14 with a gradual decline to the present.

"The summary of the epidemic by age groups reveals the fact that the majority of the cases, with a total of 25, occurred in the age group of five to 14 years. We had one case occurring in a child less than one year and 9 occurring in the preschool age group under 5 years. There were three cases in the age group of 15-24 and one case just 25 years old. Since the majority of our cases were of school age, we feel fortunate to have experienced the major part of the epidemic during vacation months.

"Of the 39 cases, 18 had convalescent serum, but in some instances unfortunately, this serum was not given early enough to entirely prevent paralytic symptoms. In certain instances it was not given at all because of prejudice on the part of parents or because the disease had already passed the acute stage at the time of diagnosis so the serum was not indicated. It is difficult to say definitely just how much the administration of serum prevented paralysis, because, of course, we are not able to determine how much might have occurred had the serum not been given, but I am under the impression that the serum was a definite aid not only in preventing paralysis, where the diagnosis was made previous to its appearance, but also in checking the symptoms of acute illness and consequent spread of paralysis in cases where it was given after considerable muscular involvement was evident. Of the 39 cases, four cases were abortive in type with no signs of paralysis developing; three of these received serum and I feel that the serum helped to abort development of paralytic symptoms.

"Three cases were fatal, giving a mortality rate of 7.69 per cent of the reported cases. Two of these cases occurred in the latter part of the epidemic and occurred in spite of the administration of serum, which unfortunately was not given in one case and varying paralysis in 22 cases.

"In only one instance was there more than one case in the family which showed definite paralysis. In three cases, history was given which indicated plainly that other members of the family had had the infection but had aborted the attack. In all of these instances this illness had been about a week to ten days previous.

"At the present time there are no cases of infantile paralysis in quarantine in the county."

SMITH TELLS OF HIGHWAY ROUTING

Willard Smith, chairman of the board of supervisors, discussed the routing of the Riverside-Newport highway which it is proposed to add to the secondary highway system of the state, and talked on fire protection organization, before the Olive Improvement association last night.

The discussion of the highway routing revealed that engineers of the state highway commission have proposed that the road should be re-routed through the hills above Olive, missing Olive, Orange and Santa Ana, and connecting with Tustin avenue. He advised the meeting that any change in routing should be taken up with either the highway commission, the legislature or the governor. No objection was expressed to the proposed routing at the meeting.

In connection with the fire protection program Smith told of various types of fire protection districts and the procedure in connection with their organization.

SICK ALL OVER

A year ago last May a man in his thirties said, "Doctor, I am sick all over. I have gas in the stomach and intestines, pains in my back and head, no endurance and get cross and crabby with a perfectly good wife and if I can't get well, I'd rather be dead."

This man and his wife had dinner at our house the other day and a few games of croquet. It was worth a million to see him enjoy his meal and hear him say, "Doctor, a year ago a feed like this would have meant work for the undertaker. I have often wondered why you didn't tell the world about my case and that my telephone number is 1856-W. You tell 'em I said if they wanted to GO TO THE BAT, in the game of health, and knock a HOME RUN the place to go is

MURPHY TAKES OVER CARLSBAD HEALTH HOTEL

With Congressman Phil D. Swing housed as his first guest, William J. Murphy, of Santa Ana, past national commander of the Disabled American Veterans of the World war, today assumed management of the $500,000 California-Carlsbad health hotel at Carlsbad-by-the-Sea.

Murphy, former owner of the Santa Ana hotel, has taken a 15-year lease on the Carlsbad property which embraces approximately seven acres. He also has purchased all of the furniture and equipment of the handsome hotel.

The roadside hotel was completed a few months ago by the Eastman Hotel company.

The building is a brick and concrete structure of the most modern design. A large, cheerful lobby opens into an inviting dining room. The hotel is conveniently situated on a picturesque bluff overlooking the blue waters of the Pacific.

"I regret leaving Santa Ana deeply," Murphy said in issuing his formal announcement. "I have made many warm friends here and only the knowledge that I still shall be located near at hand makes it possible to depart. In disposing of the Santa Ana hotel, I agreed, however, not to re-enter the hotel business here for three years. The Carlsbad hotel was the finest opportunity that presented itself."

Congressman Swing, first guest of Murphy, registered with the pen presented Murphy by President Hoover after the president signed the World War Veterans' pension act.

SEN. ANDERSON HEADING DRIVE FOR JERNIGAN

At a meeting of the "Jernigan for Sheriff Club," held last night in the newly opened headquarters of Sheriff Sam Jernigan at 417 North Sycamore street, Senator John N. Anderson, well known Santa Ana, was made general chairman of the campaign, and was present to accept the position.

At the same time, it was announced that D. Eymann Huff, of the Hewes ranch, was chairman of the finance committee and Major Anderson, chairman of the headquarters committee.

Senator Anderson made a talk in which he expressed his desire to fight for Sheriff Jernigan's re-election because he had known him for the past 30 years, and for the past 25 years as a peace officer and that he realized "that if the county was to continue to have good government as it had had in the past that the citizens of the county would have to band together to support their officers."

"When the sheriff has arrested persons, he makes an enemy of them, naturally, and therefore there are a great many in this county who are opposed to him for that reason. It behooves the good people of this county to get together and support the man who has been working for their good," he said.

Senator Anderson stated that he had checked the records of the sheriff's office and that he was amazed at the amount of work necessary to keep the office to the high standard that it has enjoyed since Jernigan has been sheriff. He said that he was amazed at the amount of work necessary to suppress crime in the county and pointed out that the sheriff could not be blamed for the crime situation, but that the citizens of the county were to blame.

The meeting last night was a gathering of precinct workers throughout the county and in general was an enthusiastic one.

Deputy District Attorney W. F. Menton today stated that the investigation made by county authorities in connection with rumors that E. S. Ward, private investigator, was wanted here on an unserved bench warrant, were unfounded. He declared that, although Ward's wife and some of his associates, in the investigation made preceding the dry raid in the county in 1924, were prosecuted after the raid on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor, Ward himself was not a defendant in the action and is not wanted in the county. Ward's name has been linked with the alleged "frame-up" planned against Police Commissioner Walkup in Los Angeles in news dispatches.

Tells Importance Of Boys' Work In Kiwanis Address

FULLERTON, Oct. 7.—Importance of business and professional men taking an interest in the youth of the community in giving advice and confidential talks to aid in deciding their futures was stressed by Thomas Webb, head of the Webb School for Boys at Pomona, in a talk yesterday noon before members of the Fullerton Kiwanis club in McFarland's cafe. "You can never tell what is in a boy until you have tried him out," Webb declared in urging that boys be given a chance to prove their worth. He pointed out that many boys are often misunderstood so that their possibilities are not given a chance to show themselves.

The speaker was introduced by H. V. Williams, chairman of the underprivileged child committee of the club, who arranged yesterday's program. Approximately 1200 tickets were reported sold for the Kiwanis club benefit program which is being presented tonight in the high school auditorium.

PAIN IN YOUR SHOULDER? Use Tysmol for Relief

Knife-like jabs of pain in the vicinity of the shoulder blade are generally due to neuritis, brought on by exposure to draughts or sudden changes of weather. In some cases there is stiffness or soreness in the muscles, making it difficult to raise the arm.

The safest and easiest way to relieve such an attack is to apply a small quantity of Tysmol over the affected area. This soothing, healing preparation is quickly absorbed through the pores and carried to the throbbing, aching peripheral nerves. The pain usually stops at once, and in a very short time the last trace of soreness should disappear.

Tysmol is absolutely harmless—free from dope. Recommended for all forms of nerve pain, whether caused by neuritis, neuralgia or rheumatism. Sold by leading druggists. Always on hand at C. S. Kelley Drug Co.—Adv.

LAGUNA BEACH STUDENTS WILL SEE PAINTINGS

LAGUNA BEACH, Oct. 7.—This community, known for its art and its artists, foremost in getting paintings in travelling exhibits into the schools of the county to foster art appreciation, is to confer the same benefit on the pupils of the school here.

This is the decision of the board of managers of the Parent-Teacher association, to be reported next Friday afternoon at the membership meeting at the schoolhouse. The paintings will be on display for the full three weeks period.

Though the institution of a travelling exhibit of the work of Laguna artists originated here and has taken these paintings to thousands of pupils and parents in the county, they have not heretofore been placed on exhibit at the local school. It is the intention of the Parent-Teacher association to have them first shown here before being routed to other schools.

Money raised from the musical teas is to go each month to the rooms receiving the highest number of votes.

The co-operation of artists has been secured by Mrs. Joseph Kleitsch to have large paintings hung in the auditorium of the school, small ones in the dining room.

The baby clinic has resumed and at the first date in September registered 33 mothers. This is held at the Community Presbyterian church, with Mrs. Roy M. Ropp in general charge.

Fire Protection Discussed By Olive Association

COMMITTEE TO MAKE SURVEY IS APPOINTED

ORANGE, Oct. 7.—Ways and means of obtaining better rural fire protection for Olive were discussed at the regular monthly meeting of the Olive Improvement association held last night in Olive hall.

Consideration of the imperative need of securing more effective fire protection was precipitated by a fire which destroyed a duplex dwelling and garage in that community early Saturday morning.

L. A. Bortz, president of the association, in bringing the subject before the association, stated that among measures under consideration is the drilling of a new well to be followed by the installation of larger mains and additional fire hydrants. At the present time, fire plugs are only available at the packing house plants and in the center of the business section, leaving the residence part entirely unprotected.

The discussion of fire protection was led by Willard Smith, chairman of the board of county supervisors, and Joe Sherman, forest ranger stationed in Orange county. Smith stated that arrangements were being made for a state fire truck to be stationed in Orange county next year. During the discussion it was brought out that if such a truck was installed in all probability it would not fill the need of the community to the desired degree.

In a round table discussion the various merits of a fire truck and pumper, a chemical engine and other fire fighting apparatus were discussed.

A committee with Purl Shell as the chairman was appointed to make recommendations as to the type of apparatus to be secured. Other members of the committee are Carl O. Heim and Earl Crawford. They will report to the association at the next meeting, which will be held November 3.

Other matters brought before the association included the purchase of the county fair grounds, a vote taken revealing a favorable attitude toward the action. It was also voted to secure a long term lease on the baseball park in the Santa Ana canyon. The park is a part of the Bixby holdings and it is planned to use the grounds as a recreational center and to install an elaborate lighting system.

Last night's enjoyable program of entertainment was in charge of Carl O. Heim. About 75 were present at the meeting.

Members of the organization voted to oppose the daylight saving measure to come before voters at the coming election.

For Normal Girlhood

"My daughter Magdalen did not seem to develop as she should. At times she had no pep at all and couldn't get her school work very easily. For four years we doctored her off and on. Then a friend told us how much Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had helped her years ago, so I got a bottle for Magdalen. Her nerves are quieting, her general health is better and she is now as normal as other girls."—Mrs. J. Bartholdi, Thompson's Addition, The Dalles, Oregon.

CORY TALKS ON WALNUT HARVEST

Editor's Note: The talk of Acting Farm Advisor W. M. Cory, of which a summary is printed below, will be published in full on the Farm page of The Register next Saturday.

Acting Farm Advisor W. M. Cory delivered a talk last night over KREG, urging that the walnut harvest be hastened. He pointed out that the big demand for walnuts is during the holiday season and that an early harvest will be of assistance in marketing.

In summarizing his talk, Cory said that it would seem best to use enough late summer irrigation so the trees hold their leaves through the harvest season. In rushing the harvest he advised that trees should be shaken at the first picking and that any tree that shows a tendency to produce green stick-tights should be stripped the first time over and husked by hand, if necessary. If these nuts are taken in time they will be first grade nuts, he said.

The Vitalizing Hot Cereal...

Appetizing..Nourishing..Vitalizing

VITALIZING? Yes! Science has tested it and proved it. Experts on nutrition now can tell you why it is that Carnation Wheat, long famed for its appetizing goodness, is so fine a food for young and old — and in-between!

Whole grains are a super-bountiful source of Vitamin B — the precious vitamin that builds appetite and nerve health. The heart of wheat is the richest single source of Vitamins B and E; one of the best cereal sources of Vitamin A.

All need its vitamins and minerals. Yet many folks — both children and adults — eat no cereal containing the health heart of the grain. Then they wonder why they suffer from nervousness, poor appetite and under-nourishment.

Carnation Wheat is whole wheat — the very choicest of California's white Sonora Wheat — whole wheat flaked into thin, crispy flakes for quick cooking, full of creamy, nut-like flavor. As good as it is good for you.

The regular use of this delicious hot whole wheat cereal has assumed new importance. Growing boys and girls, big brothers and sisters — and parents, too — need what Carnation Wheat brings. All the values of the wheat!

The heart with its indispensable vitamins... bran, the regulator... growth-promoting proteins... carbohydrates for energy... minerals for red blood and for sturdy bone.

Truly, here is the Vitalizing Cereal!

Dons Play Long Beach Saturday

JAYCEE ELEVEN IN CONFERENCE CONTEST HERE

Facing three distinct and varied types of offense on successive Saturdays will be the achievement of the Santa Ana junior college football team after Saturday when the Dons get through with the formidable Long Beach Vikings here in their first conference skirmish of the season.

Two weeks ago, Coach Aubrey Devine and a thundering herd of U. S. C. freshmen invaded Poly field with typical Trojan shift and power plays. Last Saturday, Menlo junior college was guest of the Dons, displaying a "Pop" Warner offense that had Stanford sticking out all over it. And now the Vikings, employing a California offense, will see what they can do with the Dons, who use a Trojan style of play, partly of Coach Howard Jones tactics and the rest of Coach Cook's own handwork.

Claim Moral Victories Despite the fact that both the U. S. C. and Stanford styles of play defeated the Padres in the scorebook, Coach Cook and his henchmen can claim moral victories. If nothing else, the Vikings only won the game late in the last period by completing a long forward pass. Santa Ana made more first downs and yardage and presented the better defense.

Menlo licked the Dons by scoring twice in rapid succession on the second quarter in the first quarter and then intercepting a pass and running 60 yards to a touchdown. The Dons made four times as many first downs and twice the yardage but lost many golden opportunities to score.

The Vikings played their first game last Saturday at Ventura and came home with a 26 to 0 victory. Coach Oak Smith uses his fullback and quarterback to lug the ball, much like Santa Ana, but depends on a punt formation for most of his plays. Ventura didn't get to first base against the big rugged Viking line, which is largely composed of veterans and former Long Beach prep players.

Have Been "Through Mill" The fact that Santa Ana has three tough games under its belt as compared to one easy workout for Long Beach gives the Santa Anans a slight edge in the advance dope. Last year, the Dons ran roughshod over the Vikings, winning 22-0.

Santa Ana is situated none too strongly in the matter of an intact lineup, several Dons being on the sick list. Emmett Seacord, flashy quarter, is out for at least one more week with a bruised chest. Hal Dunham, the best end on the team, is still suffering from leg injuries and a charley horse. Clarence Hapes, husky fullback, twisted his knee against Menlo and will not be up to best playing form. Harold Rose, Cook's only other good fullback, has a bad ankle and may not see service. Kioshi Shigawake, third string fullback, has a fractured collar and is out for several weeks.

"Toby" Greenow, big end from Orange, is making a strong bid for a first string berth off his showing Saturday. He made several fine catches of passes and was good on defense too. Mike Santa Cruz appears to have nosed out Harry Lake at tackle but the 205-pounder will not be content to play on the second string long. Harry Clayton is a fixture at the other tackle.

Kermit and Curt McCoy and Philip Martin loom as the best guards although Curt plays a fine game at center when Captain Al Kluthe isn't in the game. As for the backs, Wayne Garlock, Franklin Van Meter, Melvin Beatty and Clarence Hapes still comprise the starting lineup with Bert Wilkins, Elmore Lord, Erv Watkins, Vernon Schappner, Leonard Natland and Jim Thompson right on their heels.

But Oliver-coached squads rarely do in September and early October. Slow to digest the Texan's system, which is a sort of combination of Rockne, Jones and Warner thrown in with Oliver's usually find themselves about the own theories. Santa Ana teams middle of October and from there on are mighty dangerous.

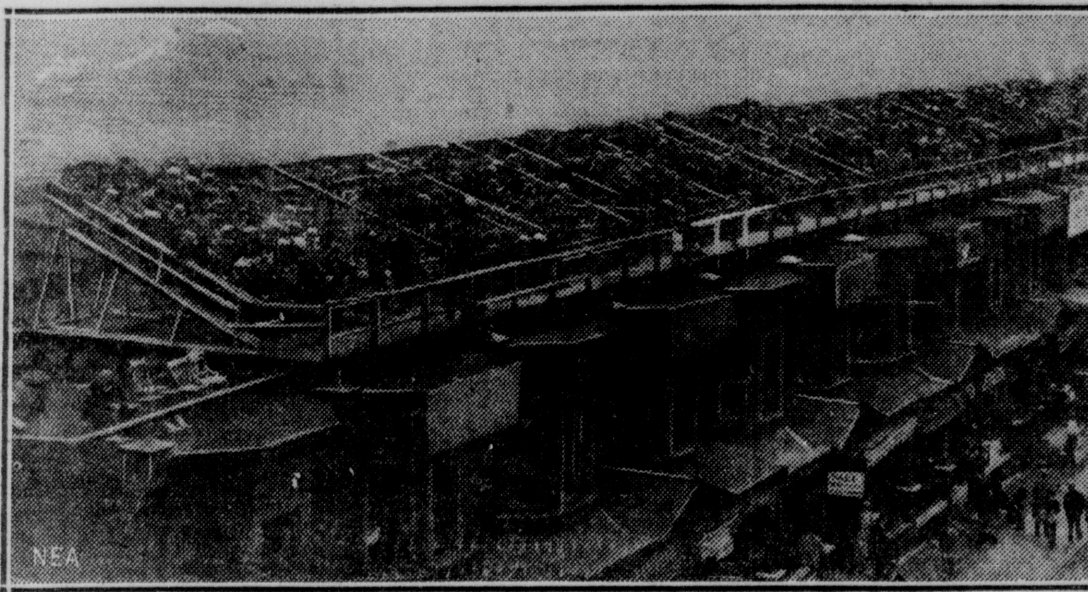

Cliver is chiefly worried about injuries to two of his few veterans, Don Crumley, his best blocking halfback, and "Toby" Blower, a sensational young end. Neither may start Friday.

Otherwise, the situation doesn't look half bad. The Saints have Al Reboin and they have Harold Pangle so their backfield won't compare unfavorably with any prep quartet in the state. "Red" Kidder and "Red" Wilson will be in the other back position if Crumley can't play.

Hideo Higashi and either Blower, Gib Meisinger or Jim Daneri will be on the ends with Lawrence Lutz at one tackle and either Minter or Donahue at the other. Runyan, Reichstein and Olsen are the ranking guards. Harvey, Prentinger and Whitford are rated about even at center.

SEEING THE WORLD SERIES FROM HOUSETOP

If you think residents in the locality of a major league baseball park make a lot of money park- rd must knock down for the world series games in the cars of the fans, consider what this landlo Philadelphia. This is a general view of the "housetop bleachers," erected on a building across the street from Shibe park. Thousands of fans took advantage of this point in the Cubs-A's series in 1929 and the landlord, having faith in the A's ability to repeat their American league triumph, left the seats up for this year.

'LEFTY' GROVE MAY GET CALL FOR ATHLETICS

BY JAMES L. KILGALLEN (I. N. S. Sports Writer)

ABOARD BASEBALL WRITERS SPECIAL ENROUTE TO PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 7.—On to Philadelphia to wind up the world series!

Three "specials" running two hours apart, one bearing the St. Louis Cardinals, another the Philadelphia Athletics and the third a battery of newspaper correspondents and baseball celebrities, were clicking over the rails eastward bound today headed for Philadelphia where the sixth game of the world series will be staged tomorrow.

With the series standing three victories for the A's against two for the Cardinals, it is possible for Philadelphia to settle the issue by winning tomorrow.

Postmortems of the five games already played and particularly yesterday's contest which the A's won 2 to 0, on Jimmy Fox's home run in the ninth, were being held aboard train.

Hallahan for Cards

Bill Hallahan, the Cards' classy southpaw pitcher, who on Saturday blanked the A's allowing only seven scattered hits, will be Manager Gabbard's pitching selection tomorrow.

He probably will be opposed by "Lefty" Grove.

If Hallahan can stop the A's again the series will be tied in a knot once more and the playing of a seventh game will be necessary.

Betting today was at odds of six to five that the A's win tomorrow and retain the baseball championship of the world. If the Cardinals run the series out to a seventh contest the betting on the rubber game will be at even money—take your choice.

Cards Have Lots of Fight

The Cardinals have demonstrated that they are a fighting ball club. The fact that they are again one down to the A's does not seem to worry them at all. From the bat boy up to the gargantuan Street, they are convinced they can "take" the A's. After that is accomplished they have only one more game to win.

That is their line of reasoning. So far the series has developed only a few heroes and a few "goats." The great pitching of Grove and Earnshaw for the A's and Hallahan and Haines for the Cardinals has stood out. Even in defeat, the pitching of Grimes has been splendid.

Shortstop Charley Gelbert has been the outstanding star of the Cardinals.

Gelbert Star of Series

Time and time again he has pulled off amazing fielding plays and his batting has been fine. He has accepted 26 chances, 5 putouts and 21 assists, and he has batted an impressive .429.

The A's big three—Simmons, Cochrane and Foxx—have played good ball.

orable action providing the city water system would not be jeopardized in any way.

This golf course, it was pointed out, would give this community another splendid asset for residents and visitors all the year. It would also be the most convenient course to Laguna Beach, and would be handy to Santa Ana and other points.

OLIVER SQUAD FACES WILSON ELEVEN FRIDAY

BY GRIDDER

Santa Ana high school's "team of mystery" plunges into the caldron of Coast Preparatory league football competition Friday afternoon, opening its schedule in the state's strongest interscholastic confederacy against Woodrow Wilson, a baby member, on Stephens field at Long Beach.

Two warm-up games, one with Orange and one with Roosevelt, have failed to determine whether the 1930 Saints are good or bad or indifferent.

But John J. Fan will know Friday.

Woodrow Wilson is one of three new schools in the Coast circuit, the others being Compton and Fullerton. The Long Beach eleven is coached by Rocky Kemp, former University of Southern California substitute quarterback who has planted the seed of Trojan play in the Wilson garden.

Kemp inherited plenty of material, including Captain Jack Brande, a triple threat, who was one of the premier backs in the Bay league last year. The mite coach also starts his schedule with a line of experience and several strong backs to help Brande go places.

These are all untested in Coast league competition which Woodrow Wilson will find considerably tougher than the old Bay league brand. Kemp started his men off on a couple of "soft touches" and they did all that might be asked in drubbing Narbonne, 27-13, and Gardena, 33-0. Santa Ana will be different than Narbonne and Gardena, of course, but the scores indicate that Kemp at least has constructed the skeleton of offensive ability.

Coach "Tex" Oliver makes no effort to conceal worries about his football team. Coaches usually are worried about this time of year so Oliver's troubles are not to be taken too seriously, although it is quite true that the Saints have displayed no great punch and certainly no marvelous defensive strength.

But Oliver-coached squads rarely do in September and early October. Slow to digest the Texan's system, which is a sort of combination of Rockne, Jones and Warner thrown in with Oliver's usually find themselves about the own theories. Santa Ana teams middle of October and from there on are mighty dangerous.

Cliver is chiefly worried about injuries to two of his few veterans, Don Crumley, his best blocking halfback, and "Toby" Blower, a sensational young end. Neither may start Friday.

Otherwise, the situation doesn't look half bad. The Saints have Al Reboin and they have Harold Pangle so their backfield won't compare unfavorably with any prep quartet in the state. "Red" Kidder and "Red" Wilson will be in the other back position if Crumley can't play.

Hideo Higashi and either Blower, Gib Meisinger or Jim Daneri will be on the ends with Lawrence Lutz at one tackle and either Minter or Donahue at the other. Runyan, Reichstein and Olsen are the ranking guards. Harvey, Prentinger and Whitford are rated about even at center.

Gallant Fox Is Retired; Won $326,365

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Gallant Fox has run his last race.

The mighty champion son of Sir Gallahad-Marguerite, has been retired from further competition, his owner, William Woodward, announced today.

Gallant Fox won the Woods, Prekness, Kentucky Derby, Belmont, Dwyer, Arlington Classic and Lawrence Realization. His earnings of $327,365 created a new record on the turf.

JACK KENNEDY WILL REFEREE THURSDAY BOUT

Lieutenant Jack Kennedy, California's greatest boxing referee, will be the third man in the ring here Thursday night when Promoter Henry T. Foust, co-operating with Orange County Vulture, 40 and 8, reopens his Orange County Athletic club on Delhi road.

Kennedy, a naval officer stationed in San Diego, has refereed virtually every "big shot" match in Los Angeles since George Blake retired to handle the business affairs of Fidel La Barba. Kennedy is the official who originated the system of pointing out the winner of each round, a policy that enables fans to know exactly the status of a match at all times.

The referee received unstinted praise from press and public alike when he tossed Ace Hudkins and Jack McVey out of the ring for stalling at the Olympic several months ago. Kennedy thus really started the drive of honest promoters and matchmakers to cleanse boxing.

Appearance of Kennedy as arbiter will help boost the big show which calls for Urban Hernandez, Placentia Mexican lightweight sensation, to box Richie King in an eight-round main event.

This match was signed by "Pop" Barrett, Foust's newly employed matchmaker who makes his initial bow as the Delhi impresario's right bower in the Thursday program.

The fight show also marks the first time that the "40 and 8" has of- ficially connected itself with the boxing game here.

Barrett has scheduled two six-round features as chief support to King and Hernandez. One pairs Tony Moreno and Johnny Gonzales, the other fat Tim Charles and Gus Hebe.

Cliff Henigar vs. Tony Flores and Adam Moraga vs. George Stari completes the lineup.

WEST WINDS

Here and There in Local Sport

By EDDIE WEST

Believe it or not—that U. S. C. Stanford game will be played just two weeks from Saturday. How time does fly!

It develops that more than the waves of his beloved Laguna Beach brought home earlier than usual Jimmy Austin, veteran coach, scout and assistant manager of the St. Louis Browns.

Austin was sent to the coast a week before the American league season closed in order to watch in action big "Buz" Arlett, slugging outfielder of the Oakland team of the Pacific Coast league. The Browns are deeply interested in Arlett, a southpaw swinger who would find the short fences in St. Louis much to his liking.

Incidentally, "Pepper" Jimmy has agreed to manage again for Leo Newman's Eastside Athletic club.

Promoter Henry T. Foust reopens his Orange County Athletic club this week, with the Orange County 40 and 8 helping him in devious ways and "Pop" Barrett, the Methusalem of the fight game, teamed up as matchmaker.

All concerned should profit by the transaction.

Co-operation of the Legionnaires promises not only to help develop a new and larger clientele, which is necessary to the future of the sport here, but also reduce substantially the southside's club overhead about 50 per cent. The veterans will do a lot of the work gratis that formerly drained Foust's pocketbook dry.

Barrett is a genial, elderly gentleman who knows the ins and outs of the racket, but who has kept his reputation as a square shooter ununsullied in 40 years connection with an unusual business. Barrett formerly was matchmaker for Leo Newman's Eastside Athletic club.

There isn't much use denying it. Radio has rendered almost obsolete the baseball scoreboard.

Five years ago thousands gathered to watch the world series played by electricity. Less than half that number attend the game these days.

Fans prefer to sit by their radios and hear, rather than stand in the sun and see.

HERE AND THERE: Al Reboin, greatest Santa Ana all-round athlete of all time, completes his eligibility with the Saints in February. He has averaged a gain of 100 yards in every game of football.

CHURCH TEAMS ORGANIZE FOR BASKET SEASON

Plans for the annual schedule of the Santa Ana Church Basketball league began to take shape today following a meeting of representatives of five church teams at the Y. M. C. A. last night.

Churches represented were the Spurgeon Memorial South Methodist, the Latter Day Saints, Orange Avenue Christian, First Presbyterian and First Christian. Several others are expected to be in the running shortly.

Another meeting of the representatives is called for Friday at 7 p. m., at which time definite action is to be taken on eligibility lists, arrangement of schedule and other details. The management of the league's affairs is to be handled by a committee made up of two representatives from each team.

In addition to the committee meeting on Friday, the teams expect to line up for practice games in the "Y" gymnasium. The schedule will be open until November 1, after which no more teams will be admitted.

"I WAS JUST THINKING" The boys were talking about big leaguers and their salaries. Into the conversation burst the voice of the old-timer.

"I was just thinking," said the old-timer, "about ball players in the old days. The days when Wagner and Young and Waddell were just coming up. Maybe you fellows didn't know I signed all those lads to the contracts once upon a time."

The old-timer's name was George Moreland, former bush league manager, big league scout and baseball writer. He lives in Cleveland now.

"I sold Cy Young to Cleveland for $250," continued the old-timer while the others maintained respectful silence. "And I'll tell you how I found him."

HOLE BEHIND PLATE I was managing a ball team at Canton, O., in 1889. We went down to Paoli for a game. When we arrived I was amazed to notice that a hole two feet square had been dug behind home plate. I asked them what it was all about.

"The catcher stands in there," they told me. "Don't want to take a chance on getting bashed in the face with one of that Dent Young's pitches."

"When I saw that guy wind up and fling that ball in there, I knew he was a great pitcher. And he didn't even know how to curve a ball in those days."

"I left my job at shortstop in the hands of a sub and went into the crowd making inquiries. They pointed out Cy Young's father. I asked him what the boy was getting for pitching."

"Ten dollars a month and found," was the proud father's reply.

FOR $40 A MONTH "That was small money, even in those days, so I asked the dad how he would like to sign his son for $40 a month. The deal was made at once."

"Cy lost the first game he pitched for us, but we taught him how to curve it and after that he was unbeatable. I had to get a cop, though, to help me keep him in Canton after he lost that game. He was going to walk right home."

Moreland also signed up Honus Wagner and Rube Waddell during his minor league managing days. Wagner's first pay was $35 a month and he rode a coal train from Carnegie to Steubenville, O., to take the job.

Waddell was a bit smarter as a bargainer. He drew down $75 a month when he pitched for Moreland's team.

Wonder how a major league manager would like to sign three young fellows like Waddell, Wagner and Young for $150 a month right now. Don't make me laugh.

CITY COUNCIL WILL IMPROVE BEACH STREET

NEWPORT-BALBOA, Oct. 7.—Fifteenth street, northern boundary of the city of Newport Beach, will be improved from Newport harbor union high school, it was decided last night by the city council, the city's share of the cost being about $1200.

Councilman Paul Ellsworth, chairman of the street committee, reported that oiling and grading the city's half would cost about $500, while macadam would total $1200. City Engineer R. L. Patterson said that the road would do its half of the work in whatever manner the city wished, and the macadam method was chosen.

Already the county has almost completed the building of a new road from the Coast highway westward to the new high school. It runs through the lower part of the old Orange county golf course, then divides in two, one leading to Sixteenth and the other to Seventeenth street, both going past the school to Newport boulevard.

The city council filed a petition asking for the construction of a grove at Thirty-sixth street and the building of an alley from Thirty-sixth street west, as less than 50 per cent of the property owners had signed it. They also filed a communication from E. J. Benard objecting to the method of initiating the improvement.

A letter from Otto G. Wilkey and company, developers of El Bano Balboa tract, asking for the opening of Tenth street from Central to Bay, was referred to City Attorney Roland Thompson for action.

Permit was given the telephone company to lay a cable from Balboa peninsula to Corona del Mar, under certain conditions, including the lifting of the present cable from Balboa island to the mainland. The new cable is necessary, the company's letter said, because of the growth of that part of the city.

A letter from Harbor Master M. S. Robinson recommending certain mooring regulations in the harbor was laid on the table until the next meeting.

C. E. PRESIDENT GIVES REPORT ON CONVENTION

PLACENTIA, Oct. 7.—The first report on the Christian Endeavor conference at Berlin was given at the C. E. meeting at the Placentia Presbyterian church Sunday evening by Miss Dorothy Abbott, president of the Orange County Christian Endeavor union.

Miss Abbott left New York July 10 on the S. S. Cameronia, with a party of 450 delegates. There were six delegates from Orange county in the party, including Miss Abbott, and Miss Eleanor Case, both of Placentia; Everett Schneider, of Anaheim; Esther Bosse and Ruth Stephenson, of Santa Ana, and Mary K. Lawry of Orange.

They arrived at Glasgow, Scotland, July 18, and went from there to London, where they spent three days, visiting Westminster Abbey, the houses of parliament, the tower of London, and spending a day in the Shakespearean country.

Next came a day at the Isle of Marken, Holland, where the native costume still is worn; on to Germany, where the party visited the Cologne cathedral, and taking a steamer, went up the Rhine to Heidelberg.

The convention was held in Exhibition hall, Charlottenburg, 15 miles from Berlin. The auditorium held 11,000 people and was always full, for there were 17,000 delegates in attendance. This was the eighth world conference of C. E., which is established in 63 nations, with 800, 103 societies and 4,000,000 members. At the international roll call 34 nations responded, representatives were present from Australia, Austria, Canada, China, Czechoslovakia, Denmark, Dutch, Egypt, England, Estonia, Finland, Germany, Hungary, India, Ireland, Japan, Korea, Latvia, Lithuania, Madagascar, New Zealand, Norway, Philippine Islands, Poland, Danzig, Scotland, South America, Spain, Switzerland, Sweden, Turkey, United States of America, Wales and Yugo-Slavia. California had the second largest delegation, with Pennsylvania first.

The convention was opened by the world president, Dr. Daniel Pohlman, of New York. The president of the host society was the Rev. Schurmann, of Berlin. The convention theme was "The Challenge of Christ to the Youth of Today," and the Bible verse was "The Master is come and calleth for thee." No applause was allowed; delegates were requested to be punctual, to be polite, and to avoid

BEACH SEWER SYSTEM COST NEAR $185,000

NEWPORT-BALBOA, Oct. 7.—Acquisition of the property necessary to install the new sewer disposal system here, necessitated by the city's growth, will be carried on under the Mattoon act, it was decided by the city council last night. The improvement will be done under earlier acts.

The total cost of the improvement will be about $185,000 and the system will be capable of taking care of a city of about 20,000 people. It will be the most modern system owned by any coast city in Southern California, according to the Currie Engineering company, which made the preliminary survey.

The new system is necessary to take care of Lido Isle, the Newport Heights section and the increased population of Newport and Balboa. Corona del Mar and Balboa Island are served by another disposal plant.

Many points in connection with the installation of the sewer plant depend on the proposed improvement of the highway at the intersection of Newport boulevard and the Coast highway. Mayor Johnson reported that the county supervisors had stated at a conference that no money was in the county budget for the county's share of the tri-party overhead crossing improvement which had been planned.

City Engineer Patterson will take up the matter with the state highway commission in an effort to determine what method to pursue in regard to the sewer system.

The continued building on Balboa island necessitates a branch fire hall and police station there. It was stated in a petition signed by residents of that section and a letter from the Balboa Island Improvement association. It was referred to the council's fire committee.

WATER COMPANY TO SPEND $30,000 ON SYSTEM AT H. B., MEMBERS OF COUNCIL TOLD

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Oct. 7.—The American States Water Service corporation will spend from $25,000 to $30,000 on its Huntington Beach city water system, it was announced by Councilman Chris H. King and Councilman Elton G. Conrad at the meeting of the city council last night at the city hall. The councilmen stated that they received the information as to the water company plans from Harry Anderson, formerly manager of the company in this city, now holding an executive position with the company in the Hollywood offices.

The company will drill new wells and probably will seek a source of water supply off the mesa where the drilling of approximately 1000 oil wells in the past 10 years has polluted the water strata to the extent that it is not likely the Huntington Beach mesa will be looked to any longer as a source of municipal water supply. There are many sources of adequate supply near the city.

The water matter came before the council when Mayor Bowen asked for a report as to what the water committee of which Councilman Bayard Butcher is chairman, had done in regard to the complaint of the city water filed with the council last week by C. B. Baldwin, superintendent of the elementary school.

BEACH CITY TREASURY AT $439,901.96

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Oct. 7.—The report of Joseph Vavra, city treasurer, presented to the city council at the meeting last night, showed $439,901.96 cash on hand in the city treasury. A lot of it is perfectly good spendable money. But much of it is already appropriated. There will be needed $52,032.53 for the extension of the municipal pier 500 feet into still water for a boat landing. This work is now going on. Also there will be $62,119.98 for pier repairs, now nearing completion.

There is $261,871.96 in the general fund and $14,092.28 in the music and promotion fund. The balance of the huge sum in the city treasury is budgeted for bonds and other needs of the city.

Lester J. Knesel Passes Suddenly In Laguna Beach

LAGUNA BEACH, Oct. 7.—Lester J. Knesel, well known hotel man of this city, died suddenly yesterday at his home here. Though he has been complaining somewhat of not feeling well, it was not generally believed that his condition was serious.

Mr. Knesel came to this city about a year ago in company with his brother-in-law, E. S. Wallace, who had been in business in this city until about a year previously. They established Harmony Inn as a hotel and cafe, Mr. Wallace later withdrawing and giving his attention to a miniature golf course on lots adjoining.

The date of the funeral has not yet been set. Mrs. Mae Burnell, sister-in-law, is expected to arrive soon. Mrs. Katherine Francke, mother of Mrs. Burnell and Mrs. Knesel, is here.

KIWANIS CLUB ARRANGING FOR SCOUTS' CAMP

Jimmy Bennett and J. W. Heinecke have donated lumber and each Kiwanian will donate a day's labor to building the camp.

J. S. Malcom, principal of the San Juan Capistrano union high school, a member of the Scout executive committee, has asked

NEWPORT CIVIC BODY PLANS TO MAKE SURVEY

NEWPORT-BALBOA, Oct. 7.—A modern civic center, a beautiful park or both may be established at the present Newport Beach municipal auto camp on the bay front between Fifteenth and Nineteenth streets, if suggestions made at a meeting of directors of the Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce yesterday are acted upon.

The chamber directors did not take definite action regarding a recommendation to the city council, but decided that a special committee should investigate and report as soon as possible on the feasibility of moving the auto camp to another location farther from the center of the city, also of having the Standard Oil company, the Edison company and the Southern Counties Gas company move the structures they maintain in that vicinity to other locations.

Otto G. Wilkey of the Otto G. Wilkey company, which is developing El Bano Balboa tract, just east of the auto camp, was at the meeting and said that in his opinion it would be better for the business men of that section and for the city as a whole if the auto camp was moved. High-class buildings would not be erected, he said, if the auto camp remained there, and he stated that in his opinion only one store profited to any extent from the camp.

E. I. Moore disagreed, however, and said that a survey had shown that the camp patrons brought trade to many stores in the Newport section. If the camp was moved, then he thought the Standard Oil company and the utility companies should also move their structures.

Conrad Shook thought that a $50,000 or $75,000 civic center would be of more value than the auto camp, while L. S. Wilkinson, Frank Smith and W. L. Jordan were others who agreed that the best policy would be to have the camp removed. Dr. F. C. Perry, president, said he would name the special committee later.

George Walker, Scout executive, and Harold Case, Scoutmaster of the mission city, to be present at Friday's meeting.

HAVENS FOUND NOT GUILTY BY ORANGE COURT

Charles F. Havens, 51, West Orange rancher, charged with disturbing the peace in connection with an alleged fight with a walnut picker employed by him, was held not guilty by Justice of the Peace G. W. Ingle of Orange, following a trial held this morning.

Deputy District Attorney Preston Turner handled the prosecution. John H. Hillsbery, complaining witness, stated that he was attacked by the defendant, and that several blows were struck by Havens before both parties to the encounter went down on the ground. He also testified that Havens called him vile names. Hillsbery's testimony was supported by Derron Hillsbery, 13, and Lee Hillsbery, 10, sons of the complaining witness.

Havens denied that he was the attacker, but admitted that he had used an offensive word in addressing Hillsbery after Phillip Knox, a neighbor, had separated the two men.

This afternoon the same testimony will be reintroduced in Justice Ingle's court when Havens will occupy the position of complaining witness and Hillsbery will be the defendant. While Havens was charged with disturbing the peace by Hillsbery, the former charged Hillsbery with battery.

ELECTRICITY ADDS HOURS TO THE LIVES OF MILLIONS

FROM THAT DAY when Thomas A. Edison, with the invention of the incandescent lamp, forever banished the filling of oil lamps and the cleaning of chimneys as a daily feature of domestic routine, the progress of electricity as a substitute for drudgery has been constant. As the use of electric lighting became general, at least one hour daily was added to the lives of millions of women—hours which profitably could be used in other ways. The coming of the electrical washing machine banished another dreaded task, substituting for the old tub and washboard a simple mechanical device which does its work easily, efficiently and with a minimum of attention. Again hours were added to the lives of millions of women.

In the same way, the vacuum cleaner and the electric iron took the place of crude, uncertain methods. And again hours have been added to the lives of millions of women.

Having developed highly satisfactory substitutes for the oil lamp, the broom, the washboard and the sadiron, the electrical industry set about to make an electric range which would be superior to all other cooking devices and would bring the magic of electricity into full operation in the kitchen.

These men saw the vision of a modern substitute for the old-fashioned fuel-burning cookstove. They set out to build an electric range reasonable in cost, rapid and efficient in operation, entirely safe in every respect—in short, a device that would be as far ahead of other stoves as the vacuum cleaner is ahead of the broom or the washing machine is ahead of the old scrub board.

The first electric ranges were installed by the Edison Company more than fifteen years ago. Some of them are still in use. We were not satisfied with them, nor were our customers and good friends, but they were in several ways an improvement over existing methods, and they brought modern cooking convenience into many homes that could not have had it otherwise.

This company maintains laboratories where thorough tests are given to every device that may be connected to our service. The electric range has been subjected to such tests—its weaknesses have been discovered and corrected. Then, when the ranges were installed in the homes of our customers, their performance was watched and from this experience further suggestions for improvement were made and adopted.

Progress continued. Today more than a million American homes are using electric ranges. In the territory of the Edison Company, nearly 30,000 homes use electrical cookery exclusively, which is considerably above the national average. Recently these women were invited to criticize the electric range and make suggestions for its further improvement, with the result that hundreds of letters were received and out of these suggestions grew the splendid ranges now offered to the public—a highly superior product, carefully designed in every detail, and considerably lower in cost than its predecessors.

Hand in hand with this improvement in the physical characteristics of the range, there has been a consistent policy of lowered rate schedules so that, today, the special rate enjoyed by electric range users in Edison territory is among the lowest in the world.

And so electricity, through the medium of a completely automatic range which assures uniform cooking results, has once more added many hours of leisure to the daily lives of more than a million American women. Their homes are real homes and they have the leisure to enjoy them.

Not only does the electric range save time, but it contributes directly to the good health of the family using it. Food prepared by the electrical method is more appetizing and more nourishing. There are no flames and no fumes. There is nothing to produce greasy deposits on the walls. The electric kitchen is a clean kitchen.

The Southern California Edison Company, recommends to all its patrons the modern electric range, with full knowledge that it will be completely satisfactory and will give the same splendid service as the other electrical devices which are considered essential in any up-to-date home. Electric ranges sold by this company have the guarantee of their manufacturer. They are then thoroughly tested by our company and when they go out, they also have our guarantee.

I know of no greater, of no finer contribution that Electricity has made or can make to any cause. And we of the Southern California Edison Company are proud of the part we have had in bringing this achievement about; we prize most highly the privilege of endorsing to our third of a million domestic customers the 1930-31 series of Automatic Electric Ranges.

Council Turns Down Jefferson School Site Proposal

ACTION TAKEN AFTER PROTEST BY RESIDENTS

Following a joint meeting of the Santa Ana board of education, the city planning commission and the city council yesterday afternoon, at which time numerous complaints were heard regarding the locating of the proposed Jefferson grammar school at Santa Clara avenue and North Flower street, the city council last night denied a request from the school board for authorization to purchase the site for school purposes.

At the same time it received an application of disapproval from the city planning commission, which referred the board to a letter written on May 4, recommending a site west of Flower street in the north end of the city and further suggested that if a suitable location could not be found, as an alternative the board erect a new school building on the present site of the Jefferson school, at Seventeenth and Ross streets.

B. Z. McKinney, attorney, brought almost a score of protests from citizens who own property near the proposed Santa Clara and Flower street site, to the meeting yesterday afternoon. He declared he represented Mr. and Mrs. Pettis, who own four acres adjoining, and property owners on Bonnie Brae, Heliotrope drive and North Park boulevard, including Emil Majors, B. J. Smith, G. E. Kilson, Dr. J. L. Stephenson, Blanche Robertson, H. B. Van Dien, W. A. Taylor, Lawrence Coffing, Judge J. L. Allen, S. E. Russell, Clyde Downing and several others.

McKinney declared that all these persons were strongly opposed to the erection of the school at the site proposed, on the grounds that it would lessen the value of their property, and declared that those who had children had expressed to him that they would have no objection to the children crossing Flower street to the west, should a school be erected there.

One of the school board's purposes of erecting the building east of Flower was to eliminate the danger for children in crossing a main highway, it was brought out.

Harry Smith, subdivider, and owner of the property at the proposed site, also addressed the council but his complaint was against the proposed price of $4000 an acre, which the school board had mentioned as a price in its communication to the council.

He claimed that it was less than he had paid for the property three years ago and said that a piece of property in that locality had not sold for such a low price in the past 10 years.

Charles Heinrichs and other property owners between Washington avenue and Seventeenth street on North Flower street, were present at the meeting last night to protest a proposed 70 foot street through Flower street between those two points. In talks made before the board they virtually agreed to accept a 60-foot street.

In another communication to the board, Heinrichs asked that the proposed laying of sidewalks along his property on Washington avenue, be held up until November 15, which would allow him to gather his walnuts before street operations began.

A request from Mrs. David Wolfson, of 1527 North Broadway, asking that Broadway between Fifteenth and Seventeenth streets be changed from a residential district to an apartment house district, was referred to a special committee which will report back on October 20. Mrs. Wolfson wants to erect a modern apartment house on her property, now vacant, she reported.

A request from E. Campbell, to locate his real estate office at 721 South Parton street, in a residential district, was ordered referred to the planning commission for action.

A protest from property owners between Seventeenth street and the Santiago creek bridge on Flower street, against the proposed laying of pavements, was ordered taken under advisement.

ROWELL IS TO SPEAK BEFORE COLLEGE GROUP

Arrangements are virtually complete for the appearance of Chester H. Rowell, noted authority on international relations and famous newspaper columnist, who will give an address at a special assembly of the Santa Ana Junior college Wednesday at 11 a. m. in the high school auditorium. It was learned today from student officials.

Rowell formerly conducted a front page column in The Register. He is recognized as a leading authority on world peace and foreign relations and his talk here is expected to draw a large number of Santa Ana citizens. He has not announced his subject but will undoubtedly discuss affairs of the world.

D. K. Hammond, president of the college, was instrumental in securing the prominent speaker and will introduce him on the stage. The regular college assemblies are on Tuesday morning but as Rowell could not be present except on Wednesday, the classes were rearranged and the meeting moved forward one day. The general public is cordially invited to hear Rowell talk and no admission will be charged. Visitors are asked to sit in the balcony as the lower seats are occupied by the students.

B. & P. W. CLUB MEMBERS PLAN ON BUSY WEEK

Many interesting features are on the coming week's program for Santa Ana Business and Professional Women, according to announcements made at yesterday's luncheon in St. Ann's inn.

On Thursday night Anaheim club will present the first reciprocity dinner of the season, with all Orange county clubs asked to attend the dinner at 6:30 p. m. in Anaheim Elks clubhouse, and the subsequent musical program. A number of reservations were made for this feature as well as for other events of the near future.

On October 11, the Hollywood Business Women's club will be hostesses organization at the first southern district meeting of the California Federation Business and Professional Women's club, with an ambitious program planned, and on the following Saturday, October 18, the local clubwomen will stage their trip to the Huntington library, and furthermore have been asked to join the Volada club in a party and dance to be held in the ballroom of the Hollywood Studio club.

At the district meeting next Saturday, to be held in the breakfast clubhouse, 3213 Riverside drive, Hollywood, the afternoon will be given over to a presidents' meeting with tea served from 3 to 4 p. m. Dinner at 6:30 p. m. promises many surprise features including the presence of several motion picture stars. A more detailed program is promised later in the week. Local members wishing to attend may make their reservations through Miss Lena Thomas.

In the local organization, the popular book reviews given last year by Mrs. John A. Tessmann, will be resumed with the third Friday evening of each month set aside for this feature. Mrs. Tessmann has planned to center her talks on current American literature.

Program features at yesterday's session were planned by Miss Nancy Elder and her October committee, and opened with music by the Misses Audrey and Beatrice Granas. Miss Audrey chose as her violin numbers, "Tavatina" by Raff, and "Romance" by Svendsen, and Miss Beatrice played her accompaniments. Each youthful musician showed an admirable command of her chosen instrument, and the clubwomen fully appreciated the talent and musicianship displayed.

To complete the entertaining interval, Miss Lula B. Finley, who spent the summer in European travels, took the Business Women on a little trip—in fancy—to Barney castle in the county of Cork, Ireland, and gave a colorful word picture of the castle and its surroundings. At the same time she

MANY CHILDREN ENTERING BIRD COLORING CONTESTS

Increased interest is being manifested each succeeding week in the bird coloring picture contest conducted by the Santa Ana Register.

While scores of embryonic artists sent in the fruits of their efforts last week, many more are being received this week and indications are that within a few weeks the receipts will be numbered in the hundreds.

The colored bird contests are conducted each Saturday. A picture of a bird is printed in the Saturday paper. This is cut out, colored and sent back to The Register. Two prizes are then awarded. One goes to the child between the ages of 5 and 9 who does the best work of coloring. The second prize of $1 goes to the child between the ages of 9 and 12.

In order to assist the children in coloring a sample of work is displayed each week in three different localities in the city. One is in the front window of The Register, another is in the Watkins Bookery, Fourth and Sycamore streets and the other in the Juvenile Library on Fifth street.

The names of the winners each week are published on Fridays. The judges after going over all the submitted colorings award the prizes and explain wherein the winner showed more artistic ability than the others.

Watch for next Saturday's bird coloring picture contest. The bird for next Saturday will be the Red-Headed Woodpecker.

PLAN ANNUAL FARM CENTER GATHERINGS RETURNS FROM BAY CITY SEAL MEETING

Bortz, vice president, and John Egan, director of the Villa Park-Olive Farm center, were in the Farm bureau office today making arrangements for the dinner meeting of their center, which is to be held in the Villa Park hall at 6:15 p. m., October 14. Speakers are to be Assemblyman Ted Craig and State Senator Nels Edwards. Craig will speak on "The State Wide Water Development Program of the Legislature." Edwards is to discuss legislative matters and his trip to Boulder dam.

Paul Etzold, secretary of the Tustin center, has announced that J. A. Smiley, a member of the board of directors of the California Farm Bureau federation, is to discuss the constitutional amendments proposed at the fall election and the legislative program of the bureau, at a meeting of the Tustin center next Friday night.

LAND OF SORGHUMS

Dr. A. S. Hitchcock, botanist of the U. S. department of agriculture, terms Africa "the land of many sorghums." He recently returned from that country with species of from 60 to 75 different sorghums.

displayed a variety of Irish souvenirs, including small articles carved from bog oak, which underlies the beds of peat in Ireland, some beautiful examples of petit point needlework, and of Irish and Carrickmacross laces.

Mrs. Amelia A. Meagher, executive secretary of the Orange County Tuberculosis association, has returned from San Francisco, where she attended the seal sale conference called by the state executive secretary, W. F. Higby. Mrs. Meagher returned very enthusiastic over the coming sale, which will begin at Thanksgiving.

The conference was conducted by Mrs. Sadie Oir-Dunbar, executive secretary of the Oregon tuberculosis association, and the official representative of the National Tuberculosis association. Forty-three executives and seal sale chairmen attended the meeting, and it was the consensus of opinion that this year's campaign will be the most successful and largest in the history of California.

Mrs. Meagher returned with much valuable information, and renewed courage and determination to make the forthcoming sale the best and biggest ever held in Orange county. A financial survey of seal sale receipts over a five-year period in California puts Orange county eighth, although one of the youngest organizations.

Chest Campaign Workers Receive Prospect Lists

At a short meeting of Community Chest workers held yesterday in the Santa Ana Y. M. C. A. building, plans for the 1930 campaign were brought a step nearer to completion. Prospect lists also were distributed to the workers who gathered for the meeting. Sam Hurwitz was in charge of the session.

STUNT MAN IS HURT AS CYCLE FALLS ON HEAD

Leslie A. "Bunny" Willey, Oakland youth, who has been in Santa Ana for the past several weeks, where he has been featured as a motorcycle stunt rider, was seriously injured Sunday afternoon when he attempted to drive his motor through a burning sign board at the Eddie Martin Airport at the end of South Main street.

He was taken to the Santa Ana Valley hospital, where today it was reported that he suffered a concussion of the brain, cuts and bruises, but that his condition was not serious.

Willey attempted to dive through the burning boards while traveling 60 miles an hour. He had accomplished the stunt before, when the boards were only a half inch thick. He built the signboard here several days ago and this time used one inch boards.

The force of the impact failed to break the boards as he expected and he was thrown 10 feet into the air, falling on his face. His motorcycle, which threw him immediately, came down on his head. Hundreds of persons witnessed the accident. The youth was rushed immediately to the hospital and it was thought last night that the accident would prove fatal. He was unconscious for several hours, but today attendants said he probably would be able to leave the hospital in several days.

Salary Increase For Judges Seen

Action is scheduled to be taken at the next session of the state legislature increasing the amounts paid by the state toward the salaries of judges in superior courts in fourteen counties of the state. It has been reported, Senator J. M. Inman, of Sacramento, has announced that he will seek action through the legislature making this change.

Counties to be affected by the proposed measure include Orange, San Bernardino, San Joaquin and Sacramento. The state share of the salaries paid in these counties is to be increased from $3000 to $3500. Superior court judges in Orange county are now receiving $7000 per year, of which the state pays $3000 under the schedule in force when the salaries are $6000. The county now pays $4000 of the salary for each judge, and the proposed bill, if enacted will reduce the county share to $3500.

October Bride-elect Was Incentive For Charming Affair

Among the varied and colorful affairs of the past few weeks, for which Miss Fern Flood, attractive fiancée of Norman Pixley, has been the incentive, none has been more enjoyable than the luncheon and bridge at which Mrs. Horace Stevens presided recently in her home on Yorba street, Tustin.

A small group of girls and young matrons, all close friends of hostess and honoree, was assembled for the pretty affair which opened with the luncheon, for which Mrs. Stevens chose a striking rose and yellow effect. Waxen begonia blossoms in primrose yellow and deep rose were used in the dining room, and to center each of the two tables where the dainty menu was served, and where places were indicated for Mrs. Stevens, Miss Flood, Mrs. Fred Forgy, Mrs. Richard Winkler, Jr., Mrs. Wilbur Barr, Miss Dorothy Forgy, Miss Lucinda Griffith and Miss Sherrill Spurgeon.

Bridge in the afternoon was enjoyed amidst a profusion of zinnias whose rich tones and formal arrangement were most attractive. Mrs. Winkler scored high, and was rewarded with an artistic piece of Italian pottery. Mrs. Stevens had selected a special guest gift for Miss Flood, in the form of a pair of quaint pewter salt and pepper shakers.

Business Meeting Was Concluded By Lovely Evening Party

Left at home to care for the families while their wives attended a meeting of the Dorcas club of the First Christian church in the home of Mrs. R. A. Weisgerber at 1226 South Broadway last evening, a group of men were not at all obedient, but immediately joined each other in the home of Mrs. F. A. Snipes at 1045 West Fairview by special request.

Not suspecting their husbands, members enjoyed their business meeting with Mrs. George Calhoun presiding. Little Carlotta Weisgerber, entertained with several readings. Then as the social hour arrived, the two conspirators, Mrs. Weisgerber and Mrs. Snipes, suggested that every one go for a ride and enjoy the moonlight. So it was that the Snipes home was the destination which proved to be the setting for a most delightful occasion.

Duly forgiven, the men of the crowd entered into the sports of the evening, with many games being enjoyed. Prize awards for one of the most popular of these went to Mrs. C. L. Stein and Mrs. Lewis Hoff. Refreshments carrying out the coming Halloween motif were served at a late hour.

Those present were Messrs. and Mesdames F. A. Snipes, R. A. Weisgerber, Lewis Hoff, T. E. Williams, G. M. Taylor, George Calhoun, G. W. Allison, J. H. Mills, Charles Lawrence, C. L. Stein, Carl Aldeen, and Mesdames Verle Bisset, Hazel Campbell, W. F. Buchanan, Sue Parsons, R. A. Montgomery and Miss Lillian McClellan.

Miss Lula Minter Was Speaker at P. E. O. Social Meeting

Enhanced by the beauty of late summer flowers in pastel tints, the Clarence Gustlin home on North Main street proved an inviting retreat for members of the P. E. O. yesterday afternoon when Mrs. Gustlin was assisted in her hostess duties by Mrs. E. S. Gilbert and Mrs. Nat Neff.

Pom-pom dahlias and asters decked the prettily appointed tables, and a business session followed the luncheon hour. Miss Lula Minter was the speaker of the day, choosing as her topic the "Mediterranean Islands." She also discussed other of the countries included in the extensive tour which she recently concluded. Representing the arts of the delightful spots of which she spoke were dainty handkerchiefs which she presented to each of the members. Miss Minter explained that these were in return for the lovely handkerchiefs showered upon her prior to her departure across the seas.

Those present, other than the hostesses, Mrs. Gustlin, Mrs. Neff and Mrs. Gilbert were Mesdames Cood Adams, Warren Brakeman, Stanley Clem, F. E. Coulter, A. J. Cruickshank, L. M. Forney, Charles Fuller, Elmer Heidt, Orson Hunter, C. S. Lambert, O. Scott McFarland, Frank Paterson, Hugh Plumb, John Tessmann, Melvin Trickey, and Mesdames Margaret Esau, Genevieve Humiston, Mel Larick and Lula Minter.

BEAUTIFUL MUSICAL PROGRAM FEATURED AT NUPTIAL RITES

While a charming and dignified simplicity prevailed last night at the wedding of Miss Junia Rose, formerly of St. Louis, but more recently of Los Angeles, and Edward Harrison Burns, son of Mrs. C. W. Burns, 911 Spurgeon street, and a member of one of Orange county's pioneer families, the nuptial rites were distinctive because of one of the most beautiful musical programs ever presented in this city. For Mr. Burns is one of the most talented and popular musicians in the community, and his rare musicianship is recognized throughout the Southland, so that it was natural that his friends here should wish to assist in the outstanding event of his life, and contribute of their artistry in enhancing the charm of his wedding.

The "marriage chapel" of the First Methodist Episcopal church, where the Burns family has worshipped for so many years, lent itself admirably to the impressive rites which were promptly at 8 o'clock after a half hour of music. All the sunshine and brightness of the summer seemed stored in the beautiful zinnias which were banked with much feathery greenery at the altar.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Hour of Music
In the hall of music preceding the ceremony, associates of Mr. Burns in his work at the Santa Ana Conservatory of Music, where he teaches the "cello," gave the varied program, including two beautiful solo voices by Miss Margaret Rust, who chose "All for You" and "At Dawning"; the striking string quartet number, "Prelude from Lohengrin" played by Elwood Bear, Miss Georgia Bell Walton, Miss Emma Richards and Marion Nau; the exquisite strains of "A Dream" by Bartlett, played by D. Cesare Cianfoni on a trombone solo; Miss Walton's faultless presentation of Debussy's "Maiden With Flaxen Hair," with Miss Allen Lair's piano numbers, and Miss Lair served as accompanist for Miss Rust and Mr. Cianfoni, in addition to her delightful solo work which included the bride's request, "Danse Americaine," as well as Mendelssohn's "Wedding March," the incidental music of the ceremony, and "Adoration" by Borowsky as the recessional.

Bridal Party
The Rev. George A. Warner, D. D., conducted the nuptial rites, at which Mr. Burns was attended by Fred Pinkston of Los Angeles, a brother of his bride.

Miss Rose was charming in the softest of transparent velvet gowns whose sombre tones were relieved by a shoulder cluster of snowy gardenias. She wore a close-fitting little velvet hat to correspond, and completed the formal effect of her costume with long gloves. She also had but one attendant, Miss Evelyn Bacon of Baldwin Park, a niece of Mr. Burns.

Miss Bacon chose chiffon velvet in ensemble effect, and of deep blue tones, with hat and slippers to match. Her flowers were delicate pink in tone. Ushers were Messrs. J. Smith Bacon, Kenneth C. Newell and J. B. Head, brothers-in-law of Mr. Burns.

At the conclusion of the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Burns paused just within the entrance of the church, to receive the greetings and congratulations of their friends, before returning to the Burns home where close relatives and a group of the bride's Los Angeles friends, were bidden to an informal reception.

Reception Follows
Autumnal blossoms prevailed there as well, an especially lovely effect being attained by the use of pale pink dahlias brought in quantities by Mrs. J. Smith Bacon from her home in Baldwin Park. Mrs. Burns assisted her son and daughter-in-law in greeting the guests, and was handsomely gowned in velvet in one of the new autumnal shades of blue, with creamy lace. She wore a shoulder cluster of white sweet-peas and maidenhair fern.

The new Mrs. Burns made a pretty ceremony of cutting the wedding cake which was served with ices and other refreshments before the young people left on a Southland honeymoon.

Upon their return, they will be at home to their friends at 713 South Garnsey street, and Mr. Burns will resume his musical work with the Conservatory. His bride also is musical, and was soloist at one of the larger churches in her former home in St. Louis.

Among the relatives assembled for the nuptials, in addition to a host of friends were Mr. Burns' brothers-in-law and sisters, Mr. and Mrs. K. C. Newell, Pasadena; Mr. and Mrs. J. Smith Bacon and their daughter and son, Miss Evelyn Bacon and Julian Bacon, Baldwin Park; and Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Head of this city. Other relatives included Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Barr Burns, Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Armin, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Burns and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde A. Bach of this city; the Messrs. Fred and Joseph Pinkston of Los Angeles, brothers of the bride; together with Dr. and Mrs. Shaw, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Lessing, Mrs. Grace Wilder, Mrs. Lois Hill, Mrs. Thelma Birtheimer, Mrs. John

The regular meeting took the form of a social affair, and bridge was enjoyed. Refreshments were served by Miss Genevieve Humiston, and vocal solos by Miss Demaris Sears, accompanied by Miss Romoff.

Clever tallies bore a suggestion of autumn with their gay leaves in tones of orange and brown, and when score were added, Miss Genevieve Humiston was awarded first prize, while Miss Miriam Samuelson was consoled. Card table covers were then replaced with the daintiest of crisp linens, and delectable refreshments were served.

Guests present included Misses Demaris Sears, Esther Romoff, Neva McDonald, Lorna Allen, Marion Taylor, Geraldine Cole, Margaret Gardner, Ruth Gardner, Agnes McKinstry, Frances Birchler, Florence Stanley, Ruth Collins, and Las Meninas members, the Miss Helen Lee, Katherine Spicer, Ruth Fitz, Catherine Walbridge, Juliette Taylor, Catherine Harwood, Mary Louise Wallace, Miriam Samuelson, and the charming hostess, Miss Genevieve Humiston.

Natal Day Anniversary Was Celebrated In Happy Manner

Pleasant indeed was a recent evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Limbaugh, 705 Cypress avenue, when a group of friends and classmates of their son, Walter Limbaugh, gathered to aid him in celebration of his fifteenth birthday anniversary.

Games and contests were introduced in wide variety, resulting in fun and merriment for all. The young people especially enjoyed the pretty roses, dahlias and other flowers arranged through the rooms by Mrs. Limbaugh and Miss Marietta Limbaugh. Flowers also added to the attractions of the table where jello with whipped cream, was served with birthday cake and fruit punch. The delicious cake had been baked by the young host's sister, Miss Marietta.

Many attractive gifts were presented to Walter by his guests who included the Messrs. Dorothy Carlson, Margaret Haines, Florence Drew, Eloise Bradley, June Morgan, Lorene McMillan, Audrey Hopkins and Thelma Schorle, and an equal number of lads, including Don Boyd, Forest Neal, Orville Clemm, John Overton, Philip Mirando, Glenn Holcomb, and Russell Abbey, while Mrs. Limbaugh, Walter and Miss Marietta completed the happy group.

Dinner Party Proved Unexpected Event To Host

When Allen A. Mandy of 1325 Orange avenue, yesterday announced his intention of giving the evening over to his work, he found unexpected opposition on the part of Mrs. Mandy, which was explained when a group of friends arrived with the intention of staging a birthday party in his honor. His surprise was complete, and was increased when he discovered that Mrs. Mandy had been taken into the confidence of the conspirators, and had furthered the surprise by preparing a wonderful birthday feast of roast turkey and its accompanying delicacies.

In selecting the decorative motif for the evening, the hostess paid tribute to the approaching Halloween season, and used great fluffy golden chrysanthemums, rendered all the more effective by being combined with the daintiest of white pompon dahlias. The flowers centered the one long table where guests found their places, and used in connection with graceful green crystal and orange tapers and nut cups, made a strikingly lovely effect.

With her sweets course, the hostess placed a birthday cake before her husband, which was a marvel to behold, and quite as wonderful to eat. For two dozen eggs had gone into its composition, together with the other usual components of a successful birthday cake, and 38 orange candles sparkled in its snowy surface.

The final surprise of the evening came at the conclusion of various games, when the assembled guests presented Mr. Mandy with a handsome smoking cabinet which also combined a magazine stand in its design.

Sharing the anniversary with Mr. and Mrs. Mandy were Mr. and Mrs. William West, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wallace, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Thornbarrow of Irvine, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. Cy. Brown, Miss Vera Levins, Miss Virginia Lee Radcliff of Los Angeles, and Messrs. Alvin Rebohn and Beryl Jerifer.

Personal service on the largest possible scale

ALTHOUGH each telephone message must be "made to order," and is a highly individualized, personal service, the organization behind such service must be large.

It must be large, in order that your voice may be carried promptly and clearly, over uniform equipment and by uniform operating methods, to any town or village in the land. It must be large in order to make universal service a practical reality.

So the Bell System is large. It has placed at your disposal 3,750 million dollars' worth of telephone plant and equipment. It serves you through 24 operating companies, each adapted to the needs of the area it serves. Working with these companies is the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, giving them the benefit of its constant development of better methods. The Bell Laboratory's scientists and the Western Electric Company's engineers, great factories and warehouses also aid in vigorously carrying forward the telephone development of the country.

Children and Candy

One of the bugaboos that once faced mothers with little boys and girls was the statement that candy was bad for their teeth, so candy was taboo, except what they got through illegal channels. Candy in judicious amounts is not harmful to either teeth or digestion of a child. Candy is one of the sources of excess energy foods needed by small children to carry them through their strenuous days of play and work.

Candy is harmful only where a child is allowed to eat it at will and to excess.

If the appetite for sweets is not controlled the child will be getting too much of the intensive carbohydrate energy food and not enough of the mineral and vitamin bearing food to supply the growth of bone, teeth and tissue constantly going on. When the child's diet is deficient in the lime-bearing foods his system falls back on the lime in bones and teeth, and the resulting damage is laid at the door of the offending candy, when it actually belongs on the parent's doorstep.

Let the child have one or two pieces of candy each day as part of his dessert. In that way the foods he should eat he will get before he can have the candy. If his appetite can be trained to prefer dates, dried figs, prunes, etc., with nuts, or home-canned orange and grapefruit peel, he will combine the energy of the sugar and the values of the mineral elements.

TODAY'S RECIPES

Curried Eggs With Boiled Rice
4-6 eggs, hard cooked
2 apples
2 onions
3 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons bacon fat
1 or more tablespoons curry powder
Good pinch of cayenne
Salt and pepper to taste
2 large cups thick cream sauce
1½ cups washed rice, steamed.
This is an easy dish to prepare for dinner, a tasty and very nutritious one also—providing the whole family likes curried dishes.

Put the eggs to cook in cold water, allowing one egg for each person. While the eggs and rice are cooking the sauce can be made. First of all make the thick cream sauce and keep it warm over water. In a frying pan put the cooking fats, peel the apple and onion, run through the food chopper and fry soft in the fat. The curry powder is added and the slow frying continues for some ten minutes. More curry may be needed and the seasoning I leave in your hands. Curry sauces should be quite hot to be good, and most of them are improved by the addition of a little sugar. Cook the rice in plenty of water, turn into a colander and rinse under hot water. Put on a platter and push into a border around the edges, slice the hot eggs in the center, pour the curry sauce over eggs and rice and serve. A

Hoover's Address Was Reviewed at Recent D. A. R. Meeting

Daughters of the American Revolution held their first meeting of the season on Saturday afternoon in the home of Mrs. E. G. Summers, 624 South Ross street.

Following the business session conducted by Mrs. John Clarkson, chapter regent, and an interval of community singing led by Mrs. Arthur May, music chairman, the program feature was presented by Mrs. Earl Morris. Mrs. Morris reviewed the address made by Princess Cantacuzena before the D. A. R. National Congress, and related some interesting facts concerning the life of the Princess.

The business session preceding the program was devoted to a review of the address made by President Hoover to the D. A. R. congress and to a reading of all the resolutions adopted by the congress. Comparison of the exact wording of certain of the resolutions with the text of President Hoover's speech revealed no disagreement such as was erroneously reported several months ago. Furthermore, members noted with satisfaction the passage of a resolution reaffirming the traditional policy of the society to exclude from its deliberations all subjects of a partisan political nature.

In explaining the reasons for a repetition of much that was reported at the June meeting of the chapter Mrs. Clarkson stated that a rumor had reached her to the effect that interests opposed to President Hoover had sought to give the impression that the D. A. R. organization is opposed to him.

During the social period terminating the meeting Mrs. Summers and her committee served a dainty tea menu from a table beautifully appointed and decorated with autumn flowers.

JOHN BARRYMORE IS SEEN AT WALKER'S

"Moby Dick," the Warner Bros. and Vitaphone picture starring John Barrymore, is showing tonight at Walker's State Theater.

Based on the famous novel of the same name by Herman Melville, the story of mad Captain Ahab and his long hunt for the great white whale, is the most spectacular drama ever transferred to the talking screen.

Joan Bennett plays opposite the star.

Four Women Slug, Rob Business Man

BERLIN, Oct. 7.—(UP)—Herr Wilhelm Ruge, a Berlin business man, has completely revised his previous notion that women are the weaker sex.

One evening a short while back Herr Ruge went into a small eating house and ordered a glass of beer at the counter. Soon after half a dozen women, accompanied by a man, came up to him, engaged him in conversation and asked him to stand them a glass of beer. Ruge obliged them and shortly afterwards left the place to walk home.

As he was walking along he perceived that he was being followed by four women. Shortly before he reached his house they made a spurt, caught him up and without more ado set upon him. Herr Ruge was knocked down by four powerful sets of female fists and while lying on the ground two of them rifled his pockets, removing his wallet.

'OFFICE WIFE' WELL RECEIVED IN S. A.

"The Office Wife," which opened at the Fox West Coast theater last night, held the audience interested to the last fade-out. It is a romance in which the office and the home are conflicting forces. The center of the drama is the secretary to a busy executive. There has never been enough said about the place this girl takes in the life of her employer—how she advises him and helps him—how she is often the executive in many matters that call for real ability—how she takes care of her employer's needs. In short, she is the Office Wife—and it is mainly about her that this picture revolves. A splendid cast has been assembled for this picture—headed by Dorothy Mackaill as the charming and competent secretary, and Lewis Stone as the handsome executive. Natalie Moorhead plays the part of the flirtatious wife with her usual charm. Hobart Bosworth, who has been famous on the screen for years, plays Mr. McGowan. Dale Fuller, in particular, should be mentioned. Her part is a small one, but she has shown herself a superb artist. You will remember her characterization of Miss Andrews as long as you remember the picture. Lloyd Bacon must be credited with the excellent direction.

PAINSVILLE, O. (UP)—Fred Van Valkenburg was working on his car when a tire blew out. The rim blew off the wheel at the same time and struck Van Valkenburg's leg, breaking it.

THE TINYMITES
STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KNICK
REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

The sail boat had a lot of speed. Said Clowny, "This is what we need to bring a breath of nice fresh air, which ought to do us good. Gee, if the wind will stay like this, this is a trip I would not miss. If you would let me run this boat, I'm pretty sure I could."

The Travel Man replied, "My son, this task is not so easily done. The sails upon this craft are large and also very strong. If you should let them swing about they'd very likely toss you out. Most anything could happen, if the handling job's done wrong."

Then Clowny said, "If that's the case, I think I'll stay right in my place and let you do the steering job. I'll help, though, if I can. I suppose you've sailed these ships before and thus you know what is in store. I guess you're right. The job requires the skill of some big man."

Around the lake they gaily sailed and folks along the shore line hailed the happy little Tinymites. The Tinies cried, "Hello!" In 'bout a half an hour or more the ship was guided to the shore. It made a perfect landing, as it drifted up real slow.

"And now," exclaimed the Travel Man, "we'll find a long path where we can walk up along a mountain side and get a pretty view. Let's take it easy so's to keep our breath because the hill is steep." The Tinies were away up high, the next thing that they knew.

All of a sudden came a noise. The Travel Man said, "Listen, boys! That is the mooing of a cow, that we will shortly see." And then the cow came into sight. This pleased each happy Tiny-mite. And by the cow's side was a maid, as sweet as she could be.

Missing Letter Links

RULES

1. In playing golf on the Missing Letter Links the object is to change one word to another in a given number of strokes which sounds hard but isn't: TEE-TIE-PIE-PIN. It's probably more difficult on a real course.

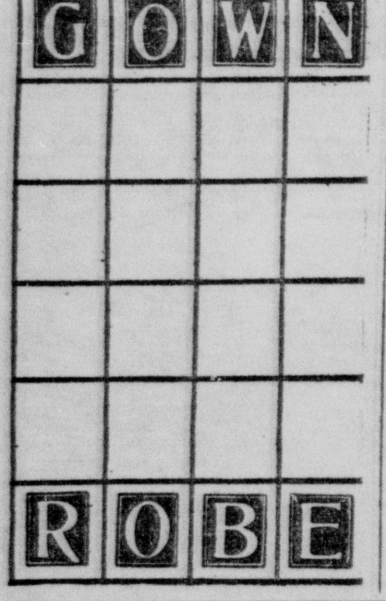

2. Change but one letter at a time and be sure the word you have used is one in good usage.

3. The order of the letters cannot be changed.

GOWN to ROBE—Sounds like we went on a shopping tour to get material for today's letter links hole. However, it will probably appeal to the ladies.

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—(UP)—Stocks met support today after values had been depressed to new low levels for the year, and leaders came back to above the previous closing levels. The market met some buying support at the opening on information that the stock exchange was investigating circulation of vicious depressor rumors. This buying was followed by a wave of selling that carried nearly all the leaders, including United States Steel and American Telephone, to new lows for the year. When steel touched its low of 15 1/4, in the late trading highest grade stocks showed advances above the previous close of one to nearly three points.

CHICAGO BD. OF TRADE

CHICAGO, Oct. 7.—(UP)—Declining steadily, wheat closed sharply lower on the Board of Trade today after being down nearly 2 1/2c on time. The break at Liverpool and the extreme weakness in New York stocks were the chief factors. There was a small rally from the inside but no aggressive buying, the decline being checked by buying against bids and some short covering. Corn eased off sharply with wheat but received more active support from some of the buyers and prices had a good recovery. Oats were off sharply with wheat.

Grain

At the close wheat was 2 1/2c to 2 3/4c lower, corn was 1 1/4c to 1 1/2c lower and oats were 1 1/2c to 1 3/4c lower. Provisions were steady to sharply lower.

EVENING SALUTATION

God's mercy is a holy mercy, which knows how to pardon sin, not protect it; it is a sanctuary for the penitent, not the presumptuous.

—BISHOP REYNOLDS.

THE POLITICAL SET-UP

Mr. Milton K. Young, candidate on the Democratic ticket for governor of this state, spoke in Santa Ana several times over Saturday and Sunday. Among the places at which he delivered addresses was the Community Bible class at the Fox West Coast theater. Mr. Young is presenting to the people of California as clear-cut an issue on prohibition and law enforcement as they are likely to have during this decade.

Mayor Rolph of San Francisco, a known liberal and a pronounced "wet," is the candidate of the Republican party for Governor. The party adopted a platform with him as its candidate, silent on the question of prohibition and law enforcement. The Democratic party, with Milton K. Young aggressively fighting for an open pronouncement, finally under Mr. Young's direction and under his leadership adopted a plank openly declaring for the enforcement of the Eighteenth Amendment and laws incident thereto.

Mr. Young has in every public statement, both before and since the convention, and in every address he has delivered in this city, and in pronouncements that he has made otherwise, declared himself unequivocally for this platform, and with a full determination to carry out the program outlined if he is elected governor of the state.

So we say, it is difficult for us to conceive of an issue which could be more clearly drawn than this one is at the present moment in California.

While it is true that we conceive of crusaders for prohibition and law enforcement who might in their own person typify for this cause as candidates everything which we hold worthwhile in a more pronounced manner than does Mr. Young, yet we know that such a man is not likely to obtain the nomination on either major party ticket.

The latest appeal that was sent out by the secretary of the association opposed to prohibition in this country urged the voters everywhere to forget partisan politics; to forget that they were Republicans; to forget that they were Democrats, and remember this paramount issue,—to destroy and repeal the Eighteenth Amendment and the Volstead Act.

Our prohibition legislation was obtained in just the manner that the liquor men urge that the repeal shall be reached. It was obtained by ignoring partisan politics; by insisting on standing for candidates, regardless of their party affiliations, who represented the views of the friends of prohibition on this question. The prohibition resolution passed through the United States Senate with 29 Republicans and 36 Democrats voting for it. Eight Republicans and 12 Democrats voted against it. It passed through the House of Representatives with 137 Republicans and 141 Democrats voting for it, while 62 Republicans and 64 Democrats voted against it. It was ratified by the legislatures of 22 Republican and 14 Democratic states, and 10 states doubtful as to party politics.

Throughout all the campaigns for the election of members of the legislatures and members of Congress and the United States Senate, under the leadership of the Christian churches, the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, and the Anti-Saloon League, the citizens were urged to forget that they were Republicans; forget that they were Democrats, but to vote as men and women whose business it was to destroy the crime of drunkard-making in the nation. The cause reached success by serving notice through actual voting upon Republican and Democratic leadership everywhere that when a candidate stood for the liquor gang he could not expect the support of men and women who were opposed to the liquor gang. If we know anything about an issue anywhere, we have the same question up in California in clear and concise manner, and no man or woman who desires to stand right upon the question can be in doubt as to which side is which.

If the Mayor of San Francisco is elected by the people of California as Governor of this state on the 4th day of next November, it will be known from Mexico to the Oregon line that a liberal and friend of the traffic has been elected governor of the imperial state of California. Every bootlegger will feel more confident and secure and every friend of law enforcement and prohibition may well lament.

The appointees of the governor in every department will naturally be those closest to him as far as appointments can be made, and every man who receives an appointment from him as the Chief Executive will know that his chief will not be displeased by a very liberal interpretation of the law, whether the appointee be judge of a superior court to fill a vacancy or someone in the traffic department of the state. The tremendous influence of the state administration of California will be entirely placed on the side of the breakdown of everything that the churches of this country and the temperance organizations of this country have been endeavoring to build up as far as the liquor traffic is concerned.

If Milton K. Young is elected, on the other hand, the very fact that he is elected as a Democrat, the minority party in the state, will hearten the prohibition leaders and the law enforcement leaders of this country as no other single political act will do between the Atlantic and the Pacific. The news that California believes in law and order, believes in prohibition and the Eighteenth Amendment, will be the outstanding news on the 5th day of November. The fact that the voters in his home state have repudiated a candidate who stands for everything in respect to this issue that Mr. Hoover is opposed to, will strengthen Mr. Hoover in the national convention for renomination, whereas his election would practically insure a repeal group hailing from California to the next Republican national convention. We will have to defeat this candidate now for the governorship, or lick him later as governor, when it comes to sending our titular leader to the convention. If it can't be done now; it can't be done then.

The election of Milton K. Young, in the light of the attitude he has assumed on the liquor question would mean a heartening and a strengthening of the lines throughout California for law enforcement, a confidence in the Eighteenth Amendment, the Volstead Act, and the Wright Act, and in the nation the news would be received with acclaim among the millions of men and women interested in the progress of the nation's soberness. It would also afford the "drys" of the Democratic party who are in the vast majority in the South, hope and a leadership in the national convention to offset the prestige of Franklin D. Roosevelt, the "wet" governor of New York.

The South recognizes that it must have a candidate from a northern state to have a chance to win. The South is the "driest" part of our nation. The experience with the split party and actually a divided party in the South for the year 1928 with all that has followed in its train, has impressed upon the southern leaders the value and the necessity of having a candidate in harmony with the moral sentiment of the South, to even insure the southern states being carried by the Democratic party. Hence California would contribute a tremendous prestige and power to the "dry" forces in the Democratic ranks for the national convention of 1932. It would do more to insure the defeat and retreat of the liquor forces in the nation than any other act we know.

In our judgment, it would insure a "dry" candidate upon both party tickets. We believe this to be at the present time and until it is settled, the paramount issue in the nation. Our President, a vast majority of our Senators and Congressmen, both Republicans and Democrats, stand true on this paramount issue.

If patriotism and principle should be stronger factors in determining our action than should partisan politics, we believe that we cannot do less than point out these facts. The "wet" Democrats in California are already arrayed against their candidate for Governor. The "wet" Republicans are to a very great degree arraying themselves against the candidate on the Republican ticket for Lieutenant-Governor. They are forgetting partisanship in the interest of exploitation and their ideas of what government should be; they are, in other words, "putting principle" above party. The "drys" both in the Republican and Democratic ranks should do no less.

BIG BUSINESS ORGANIZATIONS AND THE SLUMP

The Wall Street bankers have been examining the companies doing business in this country during the depressed period, and find that the large industrial corporations have weathered the storm much better than the smaller companies. Their varied product and their more efficient management have secured them in their earnings. Most of the large corporations have made their dividends with a fair margin, while many of the smaller ones have drawn from their surplus or passed their dividends altogether.

It is a wise policy which has been adopted by large corporations in conserving cash assets and building up an adequate surplus. Such a strong financial position and surplus is almost certain to carry a corporation through a period of depression. Unless the present business depression continues much longer than business depressions usually do, we shall find that most of these large and well-managed corporations will continue their usual dividends until business revives.

There is no reason, however, why a small company may not adopt the same policy. But the necessity that a small company feels to pay larger dividends in order to market its stock too often places such a small company at a serious disadvantage during a business depression. There are, however, any number of small companies which have been able to pass through this period of business slump, largely because they have adopted a safe and conservative business policy.

Friend of Aviation

Oakland Tribune

Aviation had a good friend in Daniel Guggenheim. Among the first to realize what gains would come in aeronautics, he gave his money and attention to the development of flying in the scientific and sane manner.

There was a time when the "stunt" flight seemed all-important; when men were experimenting with thrilling exploit rather than in the constructive lines. Guggenheim foresaw the day when weather bureau, radio, beacon lights and other agencies could work with aeronautics and when scientific research could perfect aircraft and air practice to eliminate the risks. In these things he was interested.

More than any other one he took the airplane off the circus lot and put it on regular safe-and-sane operation. Without doubt the program he initiated resulted in the saving of many lives and hastened the day of an informed acceptance of aerial transportation. Of a famous family and a man who enjoyed a distinguished career in industry, Daniel Guggenheim may be remembered longest for the fine and timely influence he had on aviation.

A PLEA FOR PITY

It has been found that people who are reducing become inaccurate in their statements

When Smith is counting up his score
And, happy and elate, Observes, "Well, well! I had a four!"
When he has shot an eight,
Do not be surly or unkind,
Or gruffly cry, "What's that?"
He merely has impaired his mind
While working off his fat.

When Brown, who borrowed ten of you
A week or so ago
Says: "Saturday I'm coming through With that five bucks I owe!"
Don't say: "That fifteen cents you mean!"
With a derisive grin.
He's just a trifle off his bean;
He's trying to get thin.

If Judson says he caught a trout
Three feet ten inches long,
Don't look at him with scowling doubt,
And say, "That's pretty strong."
Or think that somewhere in his brain
A screw or two is loose,
For, it should be extremely plain,
He's trying to reduce

When men must dine on milk and toast
The latter, thin and brown,
And have a muffin at the most
Before they go to town,
And never at an oyster bar
Fill up a second plate,
One must not blame them if they are
A bit inaccurate.

Out of the Trenches by Christmas

By WILLIAM TRUFANT FOSTER and WADDILL CATCHINGS

When will business get out of the trenches of this business depression?

When consumers buy more goods, and not before. When will employment rise to normal? It will rise to normal when consumer buying rises to normal, and not before.

During the past twelve months, consumers have not been spending enough money to enable producers to keep their plants running. Department store sales, in the country as a whole, are 10 per cent lower than one year ago.

One year ago, general business activity was 11 per cent above normal. Now it is 19 per cent below normal.

The scarcity of buyers is further shown by the fall in wholesale commodity prices. The present level is 17 per cent below the level of 1926.

In the last three months, prices have fallen 6 per cent. That, alone, is enough to discourage any manufacturer from buying more raw materials and hiring more men. The drop in prices, between the time when he buys raw materials and the time when he tries to sell the finished product, is more than likely to wipe out the entire margin of profit.

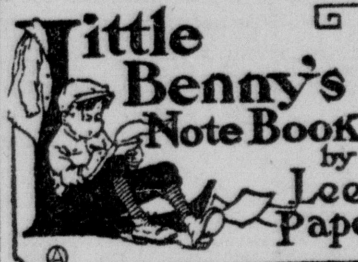

While prices fall at the rate of 2 per cent a month, nothing whatever can revive business.

And nothing whatever can stop the fall in prices, except increased consumer buying.

Let the bankers stop preaching unlimited thrift; let them take immediate steps to increase the currency and bank credit in circulation; let consumers increase their daily expenditures by twenty-five cents a day; and business will be out of the trenches by Christmas.

Tomorrow: WHAT IS A LUXURY, ANYWAY?

(Copyright, 1930, McClure Newspaper Syndicate)

Ma went to take another driving lesson from the Sparrow salesman this afternoon, and after supper she said to pop, Well, Willyum, I think I'm almost ready to take my examination for a drivers license. I got along quite well today, she said. Of course I wasn't perfect, but then on the other hand I don't think I did care to be perfect because I don't think anybody looks more bored with life than a perfect driver, she said.

How imperfect are you? pop sed, and ma sed, Well of course I didn't actually have any accidents, because you can't count it as an accident on my part if another car bumps into me from behind, she sed.

You must of stopped without giving him warning, pop sed.

Do I have to give the whole world warning every time I intend to stop? ma sed, and pop sed, No, only that part of the world that happens to be immediately behind you.

Well, anyway the man was very ungentlemanly about it, ma sed. He insisted in a loud uneducated voice that I hadn't held out my hand, and I instantly resented his manner and replied, Why didn't you hold out your hand if you were so anxious to have a hand held out?

That must of cheered him up, pop sed, and ma sed, It made him perfectly furious. It turned his passion into a rage. And seeing that I was more than a match for him, he turned his insulting attentions on the Sparrow salesman, and the Sparrow salesman insisted I had held my hand out. But I wasn't going to let him protect me under any mistaken notion of chivalry, and I sed, No I didn't either, and what's more I never even thawt of holding my hand out, and what's still more there are some people I wouldn't hold my hand out for under any conditions. And at that junction of the proceedings, the Sparrow salesman took the wheel and we shot off into space like a bullet. He seemed to be rather annoyed at the fellows impudents, she sed.

Oh, is that what he was annoyed at? pop sed, and ma sed, What else could he be annoyed at? and pop sed, Serch me.

Oh, is that what he was annoyed at? pop sed, and ma sed, What else could he be annoyed at? and pop sed, Serch me.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

THE UPROOTED CITIZEN

Yesterday I painted a picture of an America gone fluid, by which I mean an America in which men no longer stay tied to one place for a lifetime and an America in which men's interests may be scattered throughout the nation and the world, so that their interests may bear little relation to their place of residence.

This means, in effect, that we have ourselves turned nomadic again, and the new nomad that we are makes the jobs of political and economic leadership increasingly difficult.

The political mood of the new wanderer, for instance, is making responsible and intelligent political processes harder and harder to maintain.

Greater and greater numbers of Americans lack that informed intensity of interest in government that marked the man of the age before rapid transportation and widely scattered economic interests. The man of the pre-machine age, unless he had an abnormal touch of the lust to wander, stayed put for a lifetime. And the man who stays put for a lifetime is daily reminded that it is only intelligent self-interest to pay attention to the administration of the city, he state, or the nation that is to be his permanent environment.

But men do not sit up nights worrying about the politics of a place they are likely to leave before another year rolls round. We are untethered and mobile. And, in this unleashed generation, the social irresponsibility of the rovers of pre-machine and pre-political days is reappearing at a time when the complexity and interdependence of our common life make it perilous.

The uprooted citizen is politically listless. Some twenty years ago H. G. Wells sketched the outlines of this growing problem that the forces of rapid transportation and widely scattered economic interests were then beginning to put to our fixed political systems and to a political leadership that had inherited its traditions from days when men's economic interests were usually where the men lived, days when men stayed a lifetime in the same place.

He said then that sooner or later we would have to invent some new political methods for the collective direction of a people that had turned migratory again.

We have not heeded his warning, and tomorrow I shall suggest how pressing the problem is becoming in America.

OUR CHILDREN

By ANGELO PATRI

BEDTIME

Few children like to go to bed. They will hold up their heavy eyelids with their fingers, fall over on the floor, fast asleep, and still resist going to bed.

Perhaps it is the separation from the family. The child may want to hear and see all that goes on and bed cuts that off completely. It may be that there is an instinctive dread of sleep because, sleep robs one of consciousness. It may be that the child is afraid of the darkness, the loneliness of the night. There is usually a different reason for each bed hater.

Sleep is essential for the healthy growth of a child. Long hours of quiet sleep in a darkened room will build a child up when diet and care seem to have no effect. Indeed diet and good care are wasted unless the child has a good night's sleep every night.

What then is to be done with this bed hater who fights every night against going to rest? The best way is to begin with a routine day. An hour is set for rising, for every occupation of the day and for bedtime so that it becomes a matter of course—a habit. That takes a long time to establish and one must be very persistent and very patient about establishing the routine.

Try to make bedtime pleasant. Begin some time before to prepare the child's body and mind for sleep. Slow down all the activities and let the house be quiet. Not still quiet, but rather the absence of stimulating noises. Radios, singing, dancing, loud voices, boisterous games must go by the board. The hour before bedtime must be a rather quiet hour.

A bath is the first step. Warm water, a gentle drying, powdering, fresh night clothes, and then a rest in bathrobe and slippers while a story, or a talk, or review of the happy events of the day, or a dreamy planning of some happiness to come, is good preparation for sleep. Then into bed, lights out, windows open, and he will be likely to sleep well.

It is useless to force a child not to be afraid, to go to bed in the dark, to go to bed alone, if he says he is afraid. Try to discover the cause of the fear and remove that. Plan for bedtime. A happy child sleeps well. It is the unhappy, unhealthy child who is wakeful.

The bedhater may be and usually is, healthy. All he needs is the formation of the habit and that is a matter of patience and persistence.

TODAY IS THE ANNIVERSARY

BATTLE KINGS MOUNTAIN

On October 7, 1780, a little force of Americans, calling itself the "Army of the West," attacked the British at Kings Mountain, a high ridge on the boundary line between North and South Carolina, and scored a memorable victory. One of the most heartening of the Revolutionary war, the 150th anniversary of which will be celebrated on the old battlefield this year.

Just before this triumph the Colonists were passing through what historians called the darkest period of the Revolution. The British had been victorious in the south, the republic bankrupt and our soldiers grumbling because of poor pay and threatening to revolt. To lower further the morale of the American troops, Benedict Arnold, an able general, turned traitor and joined the British.

It was at this time that the British Major Ferguson was sent with 1100 men to cut off a body of patriots then retreating from Georgia to the highlands of North Carolina. Ferguson penetrated too far into the mountains and was met by a swarm of backwoodsmen.

In the ensuing battle of Kings

Mountain Ferguson was killed and those of his men who were not killed were taken prisoners. This victory proved to be the turning point of the war in the south. A new army was soon raised for the south and placed under the command of Nathaniel Greene.
